Siege Of Madrid Threatened, Say Latest Reports

Lisbon Hears Claims By Radio Rebel Columns Are Nearing Artillery Range Of Spanish Capital

DECISIVE FIGHT AT LARAGOZA

Associated Press
Lisbon, Portugal, July 31.—A series of radio reports received here tonight said four advancing rebel columns were nearing artillery range of Madrid, and that a tight siege of the heart of Spanish government was threatened.

Associated Press
Barcelona, Spain, July 31.—Ten thousand fresh troops and a squadron of bombing planes were dispatched today to the aid of loyal forces storming the rebel strongholds of Zaragoza and Huesca.

They were determined to seize the two cities, forty miles apart, by nightfall.

PROVINCE RECAPTURED

Official communiques reported the fall of the northern province of Guipuzcoa and the "visible weakening of rebel forces at Zaragoza, Cordoba and Oviedo," inspired the new offensive.

More than half the fresh forces were red militiamen.

This correspondent was informed more than 300,000 Catalans now were enlisted in the militia.

Five columns of troops from Lerida and Tarragona were converging on Zaragoza and Huesca in a wide fan formation.

FIGHTING AT ZARAGOZA
Associated Press
Madrid, July 31.—Catalan troops, camped at the gates of Zaragoza, besieged the northeastern rebel stronghold today in a series of encounters.

Luis Companys, Provincial President of Catalonia, reported "many casualties" in the battles on the fertile slopes surrounding the historic city.

J. P. Peifer, Sentenced at St. Paul to Thirty Years, Takes Poison

Associated Press
St. Paul, July 31.—John P. Peifer, convicted in the $100,000 kidnapping of William Hamm Jr., killed himself in the county jail today two hours after he had been sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment.

The details of his death were not immediately learned. He was found on his cot in the county jail and rushed to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

First reports were that he had taken poison.

PARKING LEVY TEST IN ONTARIO

Canadian Press
London, Ont., July 31.—London will become the first city in Canada to charge for parking on its main streets if the city council adopts a proposal to be made at its meeting this evening.

City officials have been given a demonstration of parking meters.

NED SPARKS HERE TODAY

"Dead-pan" Comedian Says He May Make His Home in Victoria

"I'm getting sick of the business. I'm a bit indefinite, but I might settle down in Victoria to live, and do a bit of work in London and New York and Hollywood. I'm a Canadian, you know," said Ned Sparks, famous screen comedian, in an interview at the Empress Hotel this morning.

He arrived here last night with his daughter, Miss Laura Sparks. They plan to stay on Vancouver Island for some time.

Wearing the "dead-pan" expression which has made him famous on the screen, and speaking with the same lugubrious voice, the comedian sat in the hotel lounge besieged by small boys and girls asking for autographs and declared that he was tired of California in general, and movie work in particular.

"I've been at it since before you were born, young man," he said, "and don't you ever get sick of the newspaper business, anyway?"

SMILES SOMETIMES
Asked, "Do you ever smile?" Mr. Sparks replied, "Repeatedly—but I'm expected not to in public, and I hate to disappoint them."

Not the faintest trace of a smile was to be seen around the cigar planted in his mouth as he spoke.

The comedian and his daughter plan to go up to Qualicum and then Campbell River after fish. They expect to stay about ten days on the island. "I might hang up the car here and go up to Alaska," he said. "I've been up there before, and I want to see the Inside Passage again."

"My last picture was 'The Bride Walks Out'—and why she deferred it so long I've never been able to understand."

"I worked in England last January. I wouldn't say I was crazy about it. They're a trifle backward at making pictures. . . . I assume some day they'll become quite proficient."

Mr. Sparks has never been to the island before, but he knows Victoria. "I played shows through here from New York. The stage is all shot now. LIKES STAGE BEST

"Of course I like the stage best. The old tradition keeps knocking at the door. It's bona fide, legitimate and worthwhile. You're in close contact with your audience. It's not just cold acting all the time."

Mr. Sparks confessed that he takes quite an interest in Canadian politics.

"Mitch Hepburn is a pal of mine. I used to live four miles from him in Ontario," he said out of the side of his mouth as a small boy came up with a piece of paper for an autograph. Then, turning to the boy, "What's your name. Speak up, properly. Young man, you ought to equip yourself with a book for this sort of thing."

SAYS EUROPEAN WAR NOT NEAR

London, July 31.—Viscount Cranborne, parliamentary under-secretary for foreign affairs, in the concluding debate before the adjournment of Parliament today, disagreed with the view expressed in the House that a European war is inevitable.

"What is, however, true is that the general situation during the last few months has perceptibly deteriorated," he said.

Recent conversation of Locarno powers, he added, had checked or helped to check this tendency.

MARKET ACT TUSSELE AIRD

United States firefighters were sent in to help battle the blaze in B.C. as it was almost on the boundary line.

New fires in the Cranbrook area and the blaze near Erie, thirty-seven miles south of here, were also reported under control.

JUBILEE FUND PLANS DISCUSSED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 31.—Mayor G. G. McGeer has called a special meeting of the Vancouver city council for Monday to consider action on the British Columbia government's offer of a grant of $25,000 toward financing the city's jubilee celebrations.

The offer proposed that the city contribute a like amount to the fund, with private sources providing an additional $46,000.

Man Who "Slithered" Revolver Toward King in London Faces Three Charges; Says He Did Not Point Gun, But Threw It As Protest Against Wrongful Imprisonment

Associated Press
London, July 31.—George Andrew McMahon was committed for trial today on three charges after he had sobbingly testified at a Bow Street police court hearing that he "slithered" a revolver at King Edward on Constitution Hill two weeks ago.

Weeping in the witness box, the prisoner testified he had planned to shoot himself, but, instead, decided to toss his revolver in the roadway in a protest against "wrongful imprisonment."

Biting his lips to suppress his emotion, McMahon drew his clenched fist across his eyes as he related the "agonies" he had suffered as a result of the "unjust" imprisonment on a criminal libel charge, later quashed.

"I had been brooding on the subject for many months and in my weakness gave way to drink," he gasped.

Henry Hall, K.C., New Magistrate

Attorney-General Sloan Announces Successor to Magistrate George Jay Who Retires August 26

Henry Charles Hall, K.C., will be the new police magistrate of Victoria, Attorney-General Gordon Sloan announced today.

Mr. Hall will succeed Police Magistrate George Jay, who will retire on August 26 after twenty-nine years on the bench.

Magistrate Jay becomes seventy-five years old on that day and retires automatically.

According to the law, the City Council may then fix a retiring annuity for the magistrate equivalent to his salary at the date of retirement. This is provided for a magistrate who has served twenty years or more.

Mr. Hall, it is understood, may also be appointed magistrate for the surrounding municipalities of Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, although this point has not been definitely decided.

He will automatically become a member of the city police commission, replacing Mr. Jay.

Mr. Hall will take over the magistrature after a lengthy career at the bar of British Columbia. He has also been in public life.

He is the son of Henry Charles Hall of Blenheim, Ontario, and came to this province in 1900, for some years living with his uncle, the late Dr. Frank Hall. He studied law with Bodwell and Lawson and on being admitted to the bar in 1906 went to Nelson. He returned to Victoria in 1912.

From 1916 to 1920 he represented Victoria in the Legislature and was conspicuous for his work as a private member. In 1917 he was a member of the commission investigating the affairs of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

He has been in private practice since.

F. H. Weissner and W. P. House Conquer B.C. Peak Near Knight Inlet

Canadian Press
Knight Inlet, B.C., July 31.—The main peak of Mount Waddington, hitherto considered unconquerable, was climbed July 31 by Fritz H. Weissner, New York, and William P. House, Pittsburgh. It was learned here today.

The two climbers at 3:40 p.m. in the afternoon, reached the summit of the peak, whose 13,260-feet of perilous rock and ice had turned back sixteen attempts on it and claimed one life. Two days before the king of the Coast Range had defied the efforts of British Columbia and California climbers.

The feat is believed to be without parallel in the annals of North American mountaineering.

HIS HARDEST TASK

"Difficulties were not overrated," said Weissner, forty-three-year-old chemist who led the climb. "In my twenty years of Alpine experience I never encountered a harder mountain for its altitude. That goes for the Alps or anywhere else."

After failure of the British Columbia effort on July 19, Weissner decided the climb was feasible only for a fast-traveling two-man party. He set out with House, leaving Allan (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Governor-General, Prime Minister King, Premier Godbout of Quebec and Other Leaders Speak While People Give Warm Welcome to Roosevelt As He Sets Precedent by Being First President of United States to Make Official Journey Across Border Into Canada

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Quebec, July 31.—In a handclasp between two nations, Lord Tweedsmuir and President Franklin D. Roosevelt today pledged anew the old friendship between Canada and the United States.

Under the shadow of Quebec's gaunt old Citadel, overlooking the St. Lawrence, reminiscent of a battle past, they exchanged the tokens of a century-long peace. While thousands looked on, the Governor-General of Canada and the United States chief executive spoke of the bright future they hoped would grow out of that amity.

Prime Minister King shared in the welcome, speaking briefly.

Lord Tweedsmuir, looking beyond America to the other British Commonwealth nations and their same friendly feeling for the United States, epitomized their wishes. It was his prayer, he said earnestly, that "not by any alliance, political or otherwise, but through thinking the same thoughts and pursuing the same purpose the republic of the United States and the British Commonwealth may help to restore the shaken liberties of mankind."

Accepting the sentiment, the smiling President spoke in reply of the "natural sympathy and understanding" between his republic and Canada. There had been tangible evidence, he declared, of the desire of the two nations to "practice what they preach when they speak of the good neighbor."

He voiced the hope that the day might hasten when "the heads of the Canadian and United States nations will see more of each other, not as foreigners, but as neighbors and friends."

GOODWILL FOUNDATION
The sun-browned President, fresh from a vacation cruise through eastern Canadian waters, heard Prime Minister King, adding his welcome to the Governor-General's, speak "with pride" of the international unity and goodwill between the countries above and below the border.

Mr. King said the unforgotten frontier spoke to the world of the beauty and the blessings of peace.

GODBOUT SPEAKS
Premier Godbout of Quebec and Mayor J. E. Giguere joined in the welcome, speaking to a throng spread over the grassy slopes of Dufferin Terrace below the tall stone pillar that stands as a monument to Wolfe and Montcalm and their battle that saw Canada's destiny change hands.

Farther back—and the President had passed it as he drove to the reception—were the Plains of Abraham where Canada was wrested from the French.

But today there was scant thought of battle as the races mingled.

More than one speaker digressed from Canadian-United States relations to dwell on the friendship between the two peoples in Canada. It seemed to fit the spirit of the day (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

PREPARE FOR BY-ELECTION

Possible Candidates For Burrard Mentioned; May Be Held September 8

Vancouver, July 31.—The name of Prof. E. G. Matheson, O.B.E., of the University of British Columbia, is mentioned in political circles as likely to go before the Liberal nominating convention for the provincial by-election in Burrard riding.

Prof. Matheson was a professor of civil engineering at the University of British Columbia from its inception until he retired about a year ago. He was for a time first vice-president and acting president of the Vancouver Laurier Club.

Allan J. McDonnell, Conservative candidate in Vancouver-Burrard in the last federal election, has been mentioned as a possible choice at the provincial Conservative party's nominating convention August 6.

In political circles here it is expected the Burrard provincial by-election will be held September 8, the day after Labor Day.

The Court of Revision on the voters' list will sit August 17, and by law, a poll cannot be held until twenty-one days afterwards, it was pointed out today.

Break In C.C.F. Now Takes Shape

Party Executive to Deal With Stand of House Leader; Rev. Robert Connell Not Resigning; Executive Gives Views

Developments followed swiftly today on the heels of the public break between Rev. Robert Connell, House leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, and the executive of the party, over the platform adopted at the Vancouver convention.

The executive was called to meet in Vancouver Saturday along with the members of Parliament of the party and will discuss the situation. It was indicated. According to the rules laid down by the convention, the executive may either suspend Mr. Connell, dismiss him from the party, or call an extraordinary convention to consider action.

Meanwhile, in a brief statement, Mr. Connell made it plain that his action was in no sense a desertion of C.C.F. principles. He said:

"I am not resigning from the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, nor from the leadership of the party in the Legislature. I shall not resign my seat in the House under any consideration whatsoever. Members of the party may do as they choose, but I prefer that they should speak for themselves in this matter."

How many of the seven C.C.F. House members would follow their leader, Mr. Connell, or side with the party executive became the leading question today.

In a statement replying to Mr. Connell's letter, the executive said that "with the exception of Jack Price, M.P.P. for Vancouver East, and J. S. Taylor, M.P. for Nanaimo, the M.P.s and M.P.P.s remain loyal to the movement."

GASOLINE BACK AT OLD PRICE

Stations Selling at 29 Cents on Vancouver Instructions

On instructions from Vancouver officers gasoline in Victoria today returned to the normal price of twenty-nine cents.

Stations throughout the city and district received word at 8:45 o'clock to put the price back to the former level.

Though gas sold for as low as twenty-three cents during the week, which is less than the wholesale price, it is understood that service stations will receive a rebate and will lose nothing.

Vancouver, July 31.—A gasoline "war" which resulted in prices dropping to 25, and as low as 24 cents at some stations, was practically over today with all oil company stations bringing the price back to 29 cents per gallon.

George R. Matthews, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, announced the independent retailers would also take down their price-cutting cards today.

Matthews said officials of all oil companies were presented with separate petitions signed by retailers handling their gasoline and asking for the establishment of uniform prices at all stations.

Another petition, signed by more than 200 retailers, asked for the assistance of the executive of the gasoline dealers' division of the Retail Merchants' Association and the provincial secretary to bring about a working arrangement that would ensure a fair margin for dealers.

Liquor Bill In B.C. $14,000,000

Sales Through Government Stores Increase Nearly $1,000,000 in Year; Profits Are Well Above Estimate

British Columbians spent over $14,000,000 on beer, wines and hard liquor in the twelve months ending last March 31 and gave the government a profit of $3,615,903.57 in the process.

The figures were made public today by the Liquor Control Board.

The actual takings of the liquor board were $11,109,436.86, an increase in sales of $979,501.99 over the previous year. This included $2,908,479.30 paid by beer licensees for bottled beer, which was resold to the public for approximately $6,000,000 which brings to about $14,000,000 the amount spent by the public.

The big increase in sales was accompanied by a large jump in profits. The profits in 1934-35 were $2,449,861.20.

Profits were $680,903 above the amount estimated for the year. The estimate was made conservative because liquor prices were reduced on May 1 last year but the heavier sales more than offset this.

On the basis of returns from beer sales, it is estimated some 60,000,000 glasses were sold in the beer parlors.

Vancouver, July 31.—Henry S. Hall Jr. of Boston and Hans Fuhrer, Swiss guide, who last week conquered Mount Monarch, a 11,700-foot unclimbed peak, today were on their way to the head of Knight Inlet to begin another exploration trip into the Mowat-Waddington district.

Hall left yesterday by steamer with Fuhrer and will meet Mr. and Mrs. Don Munday of Vancouver at Knight Inlet.

The party plans an attack on an unclimbed peak which Mrs. Munday has tentatively named Mount Silverthorne.

They will travel over the little-known Klamath Glacier on their trip to the mountain.

Crews Battle to Save Ranch Buildings in Crow's Nest Forest Reserve Region

Coleman, Alta., July 31.—Hundreds of men battled today to save ranch buildings and valuable timber stands in the Crow's Nest forest reserve, where a fire which started nine days ago has taken heavy toll.

Forest flames crackled across timberlands into the ranch country today. Two ranches were fire-swept, but the buildings were saved and a sawmill, in the Beaver Mines district, southwest of Pincher Creek, was destroyed yesterday.

Meantime, farther west and north, the fire advanced into the valley of Carbondale Creek, a tributary of the Castle River. It progressed about two miles along a five-mile front, traveling in a northerly direction, yesterday.

Flames were eating their way northward along the Crow's Nest Pass mining camps, though still some distance from the mines properties. At present the fire front is about eighteen miles south of the railway at Coleman.

Reinforcements were sent to the firefighters today, but there was little hope the flames could be effectively checked without the aid of heavy rains.

"We're afraid the country is ruined," reported a rancher in the fire zone where some of the best timber in the foothills country was charred.

In the Legislature last spring, however, four members supported Mr. Connell in laying down a moderate platform cited as being the immediate aim of the C.C.F. for British Columbia. Only the two Winches, father and son, opposed their leader on that occasion. Harold Winch, Vancouver East, resigned as C.C.F. whip as a result.

Mr. Connell represents the Victoria electors, who chose him as the fourth member of the twenty-nine candidates on November 27, 1933. He was chosen as House leader of the C.C.F. group after the election.

Mr. Connell said today he would not attend the meeting of the party executive in Vancouver tomorrow.

EXECUTIVE STATEMENT

The text of the executive statement in reply to Mr. Connell's letter, given as a public statement to the press on the letterhead of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, British Columbia provincial executive, is as follows:

"It is with great regret that the C.C.F. executive leaders in the action of the Rev. Robert Connell in attacking the C.C.F. platform as adopted by the movement at its last convention, and condemning the executive as elected by that convention.

"Particularly does the executive regret the fact that Mr. Connell did not voice his objections on the floor of the convention, to which he was an accredited delegate . . . and has made no attempt whatever to discuss the point raised in his letter with either the movement as a whole or with the executive."

The executive declared he had accepted the advice of "discredited advisers" and added: "We would be sorry to lose Mr. Connell from the movement. We regret that Mr. Connell, in deciding whether to accept the advice of those men, or reject it, has thought to fortify his course of action by picking out the utterances of one or two members of the movement at various times, and from these individual utterances made dangerous generalizations."

"We appreciate sincerely the great work Mr. Connell has done for the C.C.F. and it has been our earnest desire that, even though his platform was not accepted by the C.C.F., he would find it possible to fall in with the wishes of the movement as represented by the convention decisions."

"To the charge that the C.C.F. platform is fantastic and holds out promises which cannot be fulfilled, we can only reply that the convention considered that platform in detail, decided that it was sound and designed to meet the situation facing the people of British Columbia, and wholeheartedly adopted it."

"Again we regret that Mr. Connell did not voice his objections on the floor of the convention when the points raised in his letter could have been thrashed out by the movement. In the opinion of this executive, the platform is sound. It enunciates the principle that the first consideration must be the production of commodities and that, when that has been done, it will be necessary to issue some form of government receipt to facilitate the exchange of those commodities within the province.

"Mr. Connell would not, we imagine, wish to see the fruit of the Okanagan, rotting on the ground and, say, the products of the cities rusting in the warehouse because of a lack of means of exchanging those commodities? If Mr. Connell objects to 'socialized finance' on those grounds then once more we regret that he did not give the movement the opportunity to reason with him."

The charge of Mr. Connell that the provincial organizer is connected with the Communist Party, the executive feels that the answer to that lies in the fact that a convention which elected executive officers who are known to be absolutely opposed to the Communist Party also had sufficient faith in Mr. Winch to elect him by a large majority. The executive members were elected by a convention of 280 delegates, covering the whole movement in B.C., received large majorities, and as such represent the expressed desires of the C.C.F. of B.C.

"With the reference to the resolution passed at the convention giving control over elected representatives to the movement as a whole, this is a movement built up by the people by the effort of the people, and in the hands of the people control will remain."

"We have had too many examples in the old parties of the parliamentary leaders acting as political dictators and cracking the whip over the people who elected them. We do not intend that that shall happen in the C.C.F. With all due respect to Mr. Connell, we feel that this attempt on his part to dictate the course of this movement according to his own personal ideas and those of a few men, is in itself overwhelming justification of the resolution that was passed."

"This executive was elected by the convention to represent the movement and as such we can only restate our position, that the wishes of the movement will be carried out to the best of our ability."

"We are glad to state that with the exception of Jack Price and J. S. Taylor, the M.P.'s and M.P.'s remain loyal to the movement."

"In view of the particular reference to him in Mr. Connell's statement, E. Winch has withdrawn from the executive in order that our position at this time may be unprejudiced."

"The executive stands firmly behind the principles on which the movement was founded and will proceed forthwith to carry out the instructions of the convention."

Prime Minister King Tells President Roosevelt at Quebec Canadian-U.S. Unfortified Border Lesson to World

Quebec, July 31.—Prime Minister King, making his address of welcome to President Roosevelt here today, said:

"Mr. President, His Excellency, as the representative of His Majesty the King, has already welcomed you in His Majesty's name and in the name of Canada. I have the honor to supplement that welcome on behalf of the Government of Canada. In so doing, I should like to say how wholeheartedly my colleagues and I endorse the words which Lord Tweedsmuir has so feelingly and so felicitously expressed. The Crown and the people are one in the warmth of the welcome which Canada extends to you today."

"We, who are members of the Parliament of Canada, had hoped that, as originally planned, you visit to the Governor-General might have taken place at Ottawa while Parliament was still in session. We had intended to ask His Excellency, as we have done today, to permit us to share in the reception of his distinguished guest, and we had planned to welcome you to the capital of Canada on Parliament Hill, at the main entrance of our Houses of Parliament, immediately in front of the Peace Memorial Tower."

"Your presence here today, Mr. President, enables us to speak with pride of another symbol; not a national but an international symbol, one of international unity and goodwill. It is not a viable shaft which rises but a few feet from its base. It is an invisible line, which stretches across the continent from the waters of the Atlantic to those of the Pacific, the line which marks the boundary between your great country and our own. On either side of that line, which threads its way along and across rivers and lakes, valleys and mountains, and plains, there is not today, and there has not been for over a century, save as a relic of the past, a fort or fortification worthy of the name."

BOUNDARY LINE

"The place of armaments on land and water has been taken by international parks and bridges, expressing not of fear, suspicion, or hate, but of international peace, friendship and goodwill. This is the joint achievement, not of two races, but of two peoples."

"Today, we are indebted to your visit for yet another symbol of international peace, friendship and goodwill. In the three centuries and more of Canadian history, this ancient capital has known but two flags, the Canadian and the British. Today, Mr. President, in your honor and in honor of our great and friendly neighbor, the flag of the United States is flying over the Citadel of Old Quebec."

M'MAHON WEEPS WHEN COMMITTED TO STAND TRIAL

"I experienced the tortures of a damned soul!"

McMahon will be tried at the Old Bailey in the autumn.

The three charges on which he was committed are:

1. "Presenting a revolver near the person of His Majesty with intent to break the public peace."
2. "Producing a revolver near the person of His Majesty with intent to alarm His Majesty."
3. "Being in possession of a revolver with intent to endanger life."

HAD LITTLE MONEY

Speaking with a distinct Scottish accent, the crippled prisoner told the court how he had stood in the crowd waiting for the King to ride by last July 16.

"I saw all the people happy and content," he declared. "Then I remembered I had hardly the price of a meal."

"I thought: 'What is the good of living? I was going to shoot myself.'"

"Then I saw how distracted my wife would be."

"The thought suddenly struck me that if I could only draw the King's attention to the wrongs I imagined had been meted out to me, at least he would not allow his subjects to be so treated."

McMahon always had carried a revolver for his own safety, he explained.

"I remembered about the gun," he went on.

"I stooped down."

"I waited for a few moments and when the King was approaching I threw the gun."

"It clattered at the feet of His Majesty's horse."

REVOLVER NOT POINTED

"Did you ever point it at anyone?" asked Alfred Kerstein, counsel for McMahon.

"Definitely not!" replied the prisoner.

"Did you intend your revolver to hit anything or anyone?"

"No!"

"How did you throw it?"

"I stooped and slithered it along the road."

TWO PROTESTS

Previously, McMahon had testified he was protesting against the arrest of his father, the late King George, against "unjust imprisonment" following his arrest and conviction on a charge of criminal libel. The conviction later was quashed.

He denied he had attempted to take anyone's life.

A lengthy letter to the late King George, read into the record, appealed "for a full inquiry into the disgraceful treatment of one of your subjects."

Peace Assurances Renewed By Premier

John Buchan, the historian, may never set down the account of that meeting for posterity, but someone else very likely will, for something of the intangible quality that marks events for history was in the meeting.

PRECEDENT SET

Tradition and precedent were brushed aside. Never before had a United States President come to Canada to visit with the Governor-General. President Harding had once set foot on Canadian soil, at Vancouver, but the visit was unofficial, though recognized by Vancouver city. President Roosevelt had, once, but that also was informal—just a vacation trip to his summer home on Campobello Island, N.B.

CAME AS NEIGHBOR

He was in Canada, the President made it clear, strictly as a neighbor, not as the ruler of a "foreign" state. He "rebelled," he said, at the thought of being greeted as a foreigner on this soil.

It was as he was greeted as one, except for the customary amenities accorded a visiting head of a government. Quebec acclaimed him. From the moment his train pulled into Wolfe's Cove, within pistol shot of the spot where the gallant Englishman of another day scaled the cliffs to the Plains of Abraham and victory, the old capital gave him of its warmest welcome.

The winding old cobblestoned roads were lined all the way from the train to the Terrace. As the top-hatted President drove by in an open car, flanked by a platoon of galloping Dragoons, he was cheered again and again.

AT THE STATION

The Governor-General and the Prime Minister had gone to the train to meet the President. When the President's special pulled in, were Lieutenant-Governor E. L. Patenaude of Quebec, Premier Godbout of Quebec, Senator Raoul Dandurand and other Canadian notables. A guard of honor from the Royal 22nd Regiment, in flaming red uniforms, was drawn up before the station.

Mr. Roosevelt came down a ramp from the train on the arm of his son James, whose wife was with them. Before that, though, the Governor-General had gone aboard for a personal welcome. Afterwards, they set off in a long cavalcade to the sunlit Terrace.

CONTRAST IN APPEARANCE

As they took their places there on a platform draped with the flags of Canada and the United States, the Governor-General and the President offered a striking physical contrast. Buchan, the intellectual, thin and almost ascetic; Roosevelt, the smiling, broad and powerfully-built, careless of his affliction; yet at the moment they could not have been more different—two men, two worlds.

The speeches showed it. Friendship across the border was the keynote of them all.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH

Lord Tweedsmuir said:

"Mr. President, as the personal representative of His Majesty the King I offer my most cordial greetings to the First Citizen of the United States. Canada welcomes you, sir, not only for your own sake as an old acquaintance—for I think you know well our eastern coast—but also as one of the major forces today in the statesmanship of the world. She welcomes you not less as the head of a country to whose people she is bound by ties of kinship and tradition; a country whose problems many of which are shared deeply by our own people. As a North American nation, we have much in common with you; yet we have each our own idioms and characteristics. Our differences, understood and respected, are, not less than our similarities, a basis for co-operation and friendship."

CANADA FREE NATION

"Canada is a free and a sovereign nation and for generations she has dwelt aside by side with you in perfect amity—an example to all the world of how civilized neighbors should live together. She is also a principal constituent part of the British Empire, and as such she is a link between your great republic and that commonwealth of nations which covers so large a part of the habitable globe. Mr. President, it is my earnest hope—and I know that it is also yours—that our friendship and good will may grow into a still closer understanding, and become that strongest of human creations, a thing about which men do not argue, but which they can take for granted. It is my prayer, that, not by an alliance, political or otherwise, but through thinking the same thoughts and pursuing the same purpose, the republic of the United States and the British Commonwealth may help to restore the shaken liberties of mankind."

IS NO STRANGER

"From the moment I received the hospitable invitation of your Governor-General, I have been filled with the most happy anticipation of this all-too-brief visit. Canada and its people have always had a very real hold on my affections. I am happy again to be able to assure you, Mr. President, that I am not a stranger to the people of this great country."

"The Prime Minister has already welcomed you in His Majesty's name and in the name of Canada. I have the honor to supplement that welcome on behalf of the Government of Canada. In so doing, I should like to say how wholeheartedly my colleagues and I endorse the words which Lord Tweedsmuir has so feelingly and so felicitously expressed. The Crown and the people are one in the warmth of the welcome which Canada extends to you today."

"We, who are members of the Parliament of Canada, had hoped that, as originally planned, you visit to the Governor-General might have taken place at Ottawa while Parliament was still in session. We had intended to ask His Excellency, as we have done today, to permit us to share in the reception of his distinguished guest, and we had planned to welcome you to the capital of Canada on Parliament Hill, at the main entrance of our Houses of Parliament, immediately in front of the Peace Memorial Tower."

"Your presence here today, Mr. President, enables us to speak with pride of another symbol; not a national but an international symbol, one of international unity and goodwill. It is not a viable shaft which rises but a few feet from its base. It is an invisible line, which stretches across the continent from the waters of the Atlantic to those of the Pacific, the line which marks the boundary between your great country and our own. On either side of that line, which threads its way along and across rivers and lakes, valleys and mountains, and plains, there is not today, and there has not been for over a century, save as a relic of the past, a fort or fortification worthy of the name."

BOUNDARY LINE

"The place of armaments on land and water has been taken by international parks and bridges, expressing not of fear, suspicion, or hate, but of international peace, friendship and goodwill. This is the joint achievement, not of two races, but of two peoples."

"Today, we are indebted to your visit for yet another symbol of international peace, friendship and goodwill. In the three centuries and more of Canadian history, this ancient capital has known but two flags, the Canadian and the British. Today, Mr. President, in your honor and in honor of our great and friendly neighbor, the flag of the United States is flying over the Citadel of Old Quebec."

"I experienced the tortures of a damned soul!"

McMahon will be tried at the Old Bailey in the autumn.

The three charges on which he was committed are:

1. "Presenting a revolver near the person of His Majesty with intent to break the public peace."
2. "Producing a revolver near the person of His Majesty with intent to alarm His Majesty."
3. "Being in possession of a revolver with intent to endanger life."

HAD LITTLE MONEY

Speaking with a distinct Scottish accent, the crippled prisoner told the court how he had stood in the crowd waiting for the King to ride by last July 16.

"I saw all the people happy and content," he declared. "Then I remembered I had hardly the price of a meal."

"I thought: 'What is the good of living? I was going to shoot myself.'"

"Then I saw how distracted my wife would be."

McMahon always had carried a revolver for his own safety, he explained.

"I remembered about the gun," he went on.

"I stooped down."

"I waited for a few moments and when the King was approaching I threw the gun."

"It clattered at the feet of His Majesty's horse."

REVOLVER NOT POINTED

"Did you ever point it at anyone?" asked Alfred Kerstein, counsel for McMahon.

"Definitely not!" replied the prisoner.

"Did you intend your revolver to hit anything or anyone?"

"No!"

"How did you throw it?"

"I stooped and slithered it along the road."

my grateful appreciation of the warmth of your welcome.

"That I am not a stranger may be illustrated by the fact that since the age of two I have spent the majority of my summers in the province of New Brunswick, and by my recent most refreshing cruise along the beautiful shores of the Maritime Provinces, where once more I have found friendship, relaxation and deep contentment."

"Nor am I ignorant or unmindful of the charms of other sections of this great Dominion—Ontario and that great empire which extends west of it to the Pacific."

QUEBEC'S CHARM

"But to many of my countrymen—and I am no exception to this rule—Quebec has a fascination all its own. The Plains of Abraham and the cliffs which led to them are eternal reminders to brave French, to brave British and to brave American colonists who have fallen in battle, be it in victory or in defeat."

"Yet there is a nobler monument: for on those fields of battle was born the living miracle which we are privileged to see today—a great racial stocks residing side by side in peace and friendship, each contributing its particular genius in the moulding of a nation. This is a monument worthy of those who gave their lives; this is an example from which all men draw deep satisfaction and inspiration."

SIGNIFICANCE OF DESIGNATIONS

"While I was on my cruise, I read in a newspaper that I was to be received with all the honors customary rendered to a foreign ruler. Your Excellency, I am grateful for the honors—but something within me rebelled at that word 'foreign.' I say this because when I have been in Canada, I have never heard a Canadian refer to an American as a 'foreigner.' He is just an 'American.' And, in the same way, in the United States, Canadians are not 'foreigners'; they are 'Canadians.'"

"That simple little distinction illustrates to me better than anything else the relationship between our two countries."

NO PASSPORTS

"On both sides of the line we are so accustomed to an undefined boundary that we are inclined, perhaps, to minimize its vast importance, not only to our own continuing relations, but also to the example which it sets to the other nations of the world."

each other each year by the hundreds of thousands—but more important, they visit each other without the use of passports. And, within recent months, another significant action speaks louder than words, for the trade agreement which I had the privilege of signing with your Prime Minister last autumn is a tangible evidence of the desire of the people of both countries to practice what they preach when they speak of the good neighbor."

In the solution of the grave problems that face the world today, frank dealing, co-operation and a spirit of give and take between nations is more important than ever before," said President Roosevelt.

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT

"The United States and Canada, and, indeed, all parts of the British Empire, share a democratic form of government which comes to us from common sources. We have adapted those institutions to our own needs and our own special conditions, but fundamentally they are the same. The natural sympathy and understanding that exists between us is

I feel, demonstrated in the universal feeling of grief when the news of the death of King George was received in the United States. We felt not only that the head of a friendly nation had been removed but that a friend whose voice has penetrated into almost every home in the United States had been taken from us—a great king and a great gentleman."

KING EDWARD INVITED

"It has also been my privilege to know His Majesty King Edward, and we look forward to the day when, finding it possible to come again to the Dominion, he may also visit with his neighbors in the United States."

SPEAKS IN FRENCH

Near the end of his speech, the President gave a demonstration of his fluent French in thanking Mayor Grogou for the "warmth of your welcome."

He said the yearly exchanges of visits by Americans and Canadians would "tighten the close bonds which already unite our two peoples."

TALK AT LUNCHEON

A luncheon at the nearby Citadel, summer residence of the Governor-General, near where Arnold and Montgomery, American revolutionists, stormed the city on New Year's Eve, 1776, followed the speech-making.

It was here Mr. Roosevelt and Canada's heads talked over in private mutual problems affecting the two English-speaking nations.

In the afternoon the President was shown around the city, with tea at the Citadel following and the departure from the city by train scheduled for 6 o'clock in the evening.

Up to the time of President Wilson, according to the records, no president of the United States had visited a foreign country. Wilson went to Paris in 1919 for the Peace Conference.

KNOX ATTACKS NEW DEALERS

At Chicago He Accepts Republican Nomination For Vice-presidency of U.S.

Associated Press
Chicago, July 31.—Col. Frank Knox, with a pledge of personal devotion to the "principles of sound and honest government," yesterday evening accepted the Republican nomination for the vice-presidency of the United States.

Standing on a blue and gold rostrum, the Chicago publisher told a happy, enthusiastic crowd that he regarded the honor as "the greatest opportunity for service that has ever come to me."

Speaking earnestly and emphasizing his remarks frequently with a wave of his hand, he assailed the Roosevelt administration as having "failed to meet its responsibility for the orderly, economical and impartial administration of the affairs of the nation."

Cheering and noisy as he started, the crowd was soberly attentive as he assailed the new dealers.

They had, he said, "embarked on a series of hysterical experiments," from the day they took office.

Cheney broke out when he declared "I charge the present administration with responsibility for the ten million still unemployed."

FRUIT FUND FORMS SIGNED

Canadian Press
Vernon, B.C., July 31.—Growers have this week received from the tree fruit board the forms which would authorize their shippers to deduct an amount up to one cent per box from their apple and pear shipments, so as to provide a fund for the operation of the proposed voluntary control scheme.

These forms are in duplicate and the growers who sign them are to forward one form to the shippers and the other to the tree fruit board offices.

The extent to which these forms are signed will determine the success or failure of the scheme, it is said.

It has not been divulged by the leaders of the projected scheme to what extent shippers have signed up as yet. All shippers have, however, received drafts of the agreement.

For some time it was discussed whether the entire crop or just the domestic crops should be levied, and the decision was finally reached that the whole crop should come under the deductions.

MINES DEPUTY LOSES HIS LIFE

N. MacKenzie of Nova Scotia Killed in House in Maine

Canadian Press
Sebec Lake, Me., July 31.—Norman MacKenzie, deputy minister of mines of Nova Scotia, was burned to death here yesterday in the flaming cottage of his daughter, Mr. MacKenzie, sixty-seven, ran into the cottage to recover personal belongings after fire had broken out around the chimney. He was inspector of mines and provincial engineer in addition to deputy minister of the Department of Public Works and Mines. He had come here from his Halifax home to stay at the cottage of his daughter, Mrs. Edward T. Wyman of Brookline, Mass.

Berlin, July 31.—Germany's Great War dead will be honored by two ministers of the Canadian Government here tomorrow, simultaneously with the formal ceremonies opening the Eleventh Olympiad. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce, will place wreaths at the base of the Berlin Monument to the war dead. Mr. Euler arrived yesterday from Moscow, where he conferred with Soviet officials. Mr. Lapointe is to arrive from France, where he attended the unveiling of the Vimy Memorial to Canada's war dead last Sunday.

CITY HALL STAFF PLANS MOVING

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 31.—Mayor G. G. McGeer yesterday assured the Vancouver City Council it would be installed in its new home by the end of November.

"Our plans call for moving in November, and I expect them to be carried out," the mayor said.

The vaults in the new city hall will be ready for use by September 1, when the city will begin to move records to them from the temporary city hall.

On November 1 the city will begin transferring its offices to the new quarters.

Wheat Plan For G.T.R. Bonds

Stockholders in England Propose Canada Send Grain Worth $50,000,000

Canadian Press
London, July 31.—R. C. Hawkin, chairman of the Grand Trunk senior stock company, yesterday said his board had proposed a compromise in the protracted legal battle between bondholders of the old Grand Trunk Railway and the Canadian Government.

Hawkin said the proposal was that the bondholders would accept $10,000,000, payable in Canadian wheat.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council on May 14 allowed two appeals brought by George Lovibond, acting on behalf of a number of G.T.R. stockholders.

At that time Hawkin expressed the opinion the decision left the way open for further litigation.

The stockholders contended they were illegally deprived of their rights when the Grand Trunk Railway was acquired by the Canadian National Railways in 1920.

OTTAWA RECEIVES TELEGRAM

Ottawa, July 31.—An offer from R. C. Hawkin, chairman of the Grand Trunk senior stock company, to settle for $10,000,000 in Canadian wheat the protracted legal battle between stockholders of the old railway and the Canadian Government was received here yesterday in the form of a telegram.

The government has given no consideration to the offer yet and may not do so immediately in view of further litigation pending in the courts.

The whole claim of the British stockholders runs into the millions.

A Welcome Visitor

A PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES has paid his first official visit to Canada today. This interesting event took place this morning in the ancient city of Quebec, where Mr. Roosevelt was met by the Governor-General of the Dominion, the Prime Minister of Canada, His Worship Mayor Grogan, and Premier Godbout.

This is a very happy occasion for this country. It marks another milestone in the friendly relations which have existed between Canada and the United States for more than a century. In a brief address, to which we may presume millions of people throughout the world listened as it came over the air, Mr. Roosevelt lived up to his reputation for friendly candor. He has an obviously soft spot in his heart for Canada and Canadians, for the peoples of the world who are bound together by a kindred tongue, and by institutions that regard tolerance in every sense of the term as their cornerstone. When he said that "frank dealing, co-operation, and a spirit of give and take between nations are more important now than ever before," he voiced a truism which should cause everybody, no matter what race or creed, to pause and think.

Very truly did Baron Tweedsmuir express the sentiments of all Canadians in his view that Canada today was welcoming the chief executive of a country "whose problems she shares and whose future deeply concerns her own." This Dominion has much in common with her neighbor on the south, and, to quote the Governor-General again, "we have each our own idiosyncrasies and characteristics, our differences, understood and respected, are, not less than our similarities, a basis for co-operation and friendship."

It was natural that Baron Tweedsmuir should allude to the force which the English-speaking nations are able to exercise for good in international dealings. He assured President Roosevelt that it was his prayer that, not by an alliance, political or otherwise, but "through thinking the same thoughts and pursuing the same purpose, the Republic of the United States and the British Commonwealth may help to restore the shaken liberties of mankind."

President Roosevelt's reference to the Canada-United States reciprocal trading agreement was an intimation of "tangible evidence of the desire of the people of the two countries to practice what they preach when they speak of the good neighbor." The happy conclusion of the President's speech took the form of an invitation to the Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir to visit him and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House in Washington as soon as convenient.

Thus today's ceremonial in the ancient city of Quebec has forged another link of friendship and goodwill between the peoples of the North American continent. It is to be hoped that this will be the forerunner of an interchange of many visits, for although the present sojourn of the President of the United States must be termed official, its intimate nature was exemplified by the simplicity of the various speeches.

Third Parties Run Third
THE CO-OPERATIVE COMMON-wealth Party in British Columbia has encountered a very irritating political snag. The Rev. Robert Connell, Leader of the Opposition in the local Legislature, produced the snag by telling the newspapers yesterday that he does not agree with the new provincial executive and the policies advocated by the head of the organization—Dr. Lyle Telford.

This would seem to suggest that the "split" in the party's ranks is about as definite as it could be—that at the next provincial general election it will meet with the same fate as did the Provincial Party in 1924, when that party elected three members to the Legislature and afterwards went quietly into the discard.

This is not to suggest that that element of the C.C.F. which Mr. Connell represents will not be heard from from time to time. As leader of the party in the Legislature he has conducted himself with strict decorum and has contributed to the elevation in the tone of the debates in which he has taken part. It is patent, however, that he does not propose to compromise with extremism as represented by the group headed by Dr. Telford. In this decision he is on sound ground.

It may be permitted, perhaps, to take from this decision that the House leader of the C.C.F. prefers to remain free to advance principles which, in his opinion, may be better than the principles for which the two major parties, Liberal and Conservative, stand. Constructive, not destructive, criticism always has been his watchword. Never has his sincerity of purpose been doubted. This newspaper holds no brief for third parties because, as a rule, when the election time is put to them they usually run third.

While the Bracken government in Manitoba may have to make some sort of a bargain with representatives of another party more or less in sympathy with policies which have been in effect for the last fourteen years, it is worth noting that the C.C.F. in that province did not elect more than five members in Monday's election—five out of fifty-five seats! This hardly suggests that the famous Regina convention platform went down well with the voters of the prairie province. When the voters of British Columbia go to the polls next time they should consult their own interests and not "swap horses in the middle of the stream."

Weather Factors

WHENEVER THERE IS TOO much weather of one kind, as the parched grain belts east of the mountains have been having the past few weeks, or as we on the Coast have had of its opposite two winters ago, we are apt to ask questions about the weather. Sometime in the brittle temper that persistent heat engenders, sometimes in dogged hopelessness—but we really would like to know a little about it, as if that would make our discomfort a trifle easier to endure.

Science cannot answer all weather questions, for science, and the science of weather in particular, is still "too young to know" all the answers. But science can answer some of them.

That weather happens at all is due to three interesting factors: the warming sun, the turning earth, and the presence of an atmosphere on our planet. Where the sun shines it gets warm; we have all noticed that. Where the sun shines on the air, the air gets warm. Anything that is warmed expands and thereby becomes lighter.

Air rises when thus expanded and lighted, because cooler, denser air from somewhere else tends to flow in under it and boost it up, thus working toward a restoration of the disturbed equilibrium. Since the sun shines straightest and hottest near the equator, and has less heating effect near the poles, the general tendency is for the cool, heavy air to flow southward along the surface, while the rising, cooler air flows northward over it.

If the earth stood perfectly still and had a perfectly smooth and uniform surface, and if the warming sun went round and round it—as in the ancient Ptolemaic astronomy—the surface wind would always be straight from the north, and the upper air wind straight toward the north.

But the earth turns on its axis, and it does not hold onto the air as tightly as it does to land and water, so that the air tends to slip a little. If the north and south circulation set up by the warming sun did not exist, this turning of the earth would give us a wind straight out of the west, all the way to the top of the atmosphere. But as it is, the two forces act on the air together, causing an air-movement general trend from northwest to southeast in the northern hemisphere, and from southwest to northeast in the southern.

But this is not all of the picture. The surface of the earth is not perfectly smooth and uniform. It has mountain ranges sticking up here and there, which act as paddlewheels or blades to cause further deflections in air current directions. And it has alterations of irregularly shaped oceans and continents, deserts and forests, which load different air masses with differing amounts of water, and also act differently in squeezing that water out of them again, condensed into rain or snow.

These facts, then, give in rough outline the broad framework of the world's weather machine. In its details it becomes terrifically complicated. Is it any wonder that the weather sometimes gives even the experts who devote their lives to it a headache?

"Slithering" a Revolver

THE CASE OF GEORGE ANDREW McMahon, the stupid fellow who, to use his own expression, "slithered" a revolver along Constitution Hill as King Edward was returning from Hyde Park to Buckingham Palace, is a pitiable one.

When the young man was brought up at Bow Street, that famous police court which faces the similarly famous Covent Garden Opera House, he was charged with "presenting near the person of His Majesty a revolver with intent to break the public peace; producing a revolver near the person of His Majesty with intent to alarm His Majesty; being in possession of a revolver with intent to endanger life."

The testimony adduced today suggests that the man McMahon has lost his grip, mentally and physically, that he had something in the back of his mind which prompted him to a silly, but dangerous, exploit. Naturally he ought to be appropriately chastised for his foolish act. But perhaps King Edward himself would be the first to suggest that he be given a very nominal sentence.

However, His Majesty, recognizing his limitations as a constitutional monarch, will leave the cause of jurisprudence to take its course. Meantime, the morning and evening newspapers owned by our own Lord Beaverbrook, The Daily Express and The Evening News, have been fined many thousands of dollars for trying and convicting McMahon under the code which does not conform to British law—the law which considers every man innocent until he has been proven guilty.

Notes

The people who have the least trouble are those who keep so busy they do not notice it.

The old swimming hole had advantages: One came out dirty, but did not pick up somebody's "athletic" foot.

So one of the Loch Ness sea serpents has turned out to be a Scotsman! Those 100 Aberdeen excursionists yesterday must have realized the height of disappointment when it was discovered the "monster" cowering in the water before them was only a fellow Aberdonian who had even bought his serpent's head in Aberdeen.

Loose Ends

The neurotic boys are having a great time these days—with laughter and tears—the average American, you judge, is a charming chap—Sir Edward is humiliated—and mostly they buy lemons.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

NEUROTICS

UNLESS you have a strong sense of humor, don't read Gunther's famous book, "Inside Europe," which is supposed to be the best current explanation of what is going on over there. Mr. Gunther's amazing descriptions of Europe's dictators are exactly like the case histories of a psychopathic ward.

Europe, if Mr. Gunther knows what he is writing about—and none of his conclusions has been challenged—is now in the hands of madmen; not mad merely in the loose fashion in which you refer to me and to your best friends as mad, but in a true, scientific sense. The close-up of Hitler is particularly grim. He has no friends, Mr. Gunther says. He sees hardly anyone. He keeps entirely away from women while commanding the German race to marry and multiply, or to multiply anyway. He pens up all his violent emotions and eventually the dam bursts in a flood of tears which may last like a woman's, for hours. Then he summons a musician who soothes him to sleep with Wagner operas on the piano.

"All dictators," says Mr. Gunther, "are abnormal. This may be accepted as an axiom. No man perfectly normal can take it upon himself to rule a nation dictatorially, if only because the vanity of the normal male is not capacious enough to accept such supreme responsibility. Aside from this, most dictators are profound neurotics. Kemal Ataturk had a wildly disordered personal life; Dollfus had a dwarf-complex; Pilsudski's breathless rages were pathological; Mussolini, as the Abyssinian war proved, is a megalomaniac. Of the lot Stalin is probably the nearest to a normal human being, but one should not forget that he was a criminal, viz. bomb thrower, in his youth."

These are the charming fellows who are in charge of Europe, who are carving our future for us, whose quarrels we shall shortly be asked to settle with bloodshed again. "The fact may be an outrage to reason," Mr. Gunther says, "but it cannot be denied—unresolved personal conflicts in the lives of various European politicians may contribute to the collapse of our civilization."

After two centuries of struggle democracy is going fast downhill, and the autocrats who are taking charge are far more of a danger than the old-time kings because they own modern armaments and because the modern world is so much more fragile and brittle than the world of Napoleon's time. In the old days when the American colonies got tired of George III they just withdrew upon their own continent and no one bothered them. Now when you have a madman at the head of a modern state he can set the whole world aflame almost overnight.

The most interesting question in the current scene is whether democracy, which we take here as a matter of course, can survive at all.

AMERICAN

LOOKING through a great American magazine, you get an interesting and vivid impression of our current civilization. The historians of the future will have no difficulty in defining the life and character of the current American from the current magazine advertisements as follows: "The American of the fourth decade of the twentieth century lived most of the time in an automobile. He suffered incessantly all his life from pyrosis, disorders of the intestines and infections of the feet, which he constantly spread everywhere about him. He always smelled very bad. But, by drinking plenty of orange juice from California, he soon achieved perfect health."

He also attributed his splendid physical condition to the consumption of old southern rye whiskey in large quantities, as well as various cocktails at all his meals. These drinks, at one time thought to be harmful, were discovered after the repeal of prohibition to be marvellously healthful.

But, unfortunately, most Americans were killed in automobile accidents caused by blowouts because they didn't buy the best cord tires. All their children were killed at an early age in this way because their fathers didn't buy the best cord tires. In all such emergencies an American quickly cured himself with a new rush of energy by smoking a cigarette, which instantly raised the blood sugar, and restored his normal metabolism and soothed his nerves.

"The American woman's life was more difficult because she could never get a husband unless she used a certain lipstick and nail polish and washed several times a day with a particular soap. Otherwise the men wouldn't look at her and her life was ruined. Besides, when she married, her husband always died young and left her with three hungry children and no life insurance. But if a girl got a husband who died quickly and left her with plenty of life insurance she was regarded as a complete success and lived happily ever afterwards."

TO THE YOUNG

SIR EDWARD BEATTY, in a mood of complete humiliation, has recently told the young of Canada what a mess his generation has made of everything. He says his generation is handing on a terrible heritage in the existing world, a worse heritage than any previous generation ever handed on to its young.

To this, Mr. Butterfield, writing in The Vancouver Province, replies that Sir Edward, with the best intentions in the world, is talking nonsense. On the contrary, says Mr. Butterfield, no generation ever handed on to another a world as splendid and so full of opportunity as the present one. In a few short years, says he, the present generation has built a complete new civilization of marvellous possibilities, solved the problem of security and given the next generation the opportunity of comfort and plenty for everyone.

This is very true, but while we have built the machine we are leaving it entirely to the young to find out how the darn thing works. This seems to be the more difficult problem. We are leaving it going at high speed in an unknown direction, and we don't know where the brake pedal is. However, we intend to jump off before the crash comes so we're not worrying much.

CODE

THE telegraph companies here are having a great deal of business these days in oranges, bananas, prunes and lemons. They must wonder every day why some fellow in Vancouver has to keep urging his friends here to buy these fruits at telegraph rates.

Through my system of espionage I am able now to solve the mystery. These fruits are all the names of horses running in the Vancouver races. Hot tips can come over the wire thus without anyone being the wiser. But so far the local boys tell me they have always bet on the lemons. Still, with this highly-scientific and expensive system of communication, they say they don't lose any more than they would if they picked the horses themselves without expert advice, and that is all they hope for.

Letters to The Editor

WIDOW'S APPLE TREE RAIDED

To the Editor:—Can you find room for this in your paper?
I am a widow and through ill-health have not been able to work since March. I have one apple tree bearing fruit and have watched it all the summer, waiting for the fruit to ripen. But when I went out to earn a little yesterday someone stripped the tree. It is only a small one, but it was my only one. I hope whoever took the fruit will see this and some day realize what the loss means to me, besides trampling down the other things in the garden.
M. L. GRAY,
560 Paradise Street, Esquimalt.

NO LOVE FOR THE PONIES

To the Editor:—I noticed something in your editorial last night about the movie studio at the Willows, objecting to its dismantling at considerable cost to accommodate a part of the exhibits at the Fall Fair, that you imply horse-racing is the drawing card for the annual exhibition. It is, and that is why there should be no interference with the growing industry which is putting money into circulation hereabouts. Horse-racing on a big scale, in the Old World and in other parts of this continent, likewise is a profitable industry. In a place of the size of Victoria, however, it merely takes money out of local circulation, and although it is none of my business, there are many who have "a little bit on" who might give the elusive "Lady Luck" a wider berth in their own interest.
FOR SOLID PROGRESS

SUPPORT FOR PEACE

To the Editor:—I think I am safe in saying that the bulk of the Canadian people desire peace, in fact one might say, with reason, assume that the average man and woman in every country desires peace, and yet we perceive the horizon becoming dark with storm clouds that presage armed conflict of great magnitude.

If the voice of the peoples of all countries is loud enough in condemning war, there will be no war.

The League of Nations Union is to hold a Peace Congress in Geneva early in September next. The Youth Congress is also to meet in Geneva about the same time. The youth movement has elected Mr. Ralph Dent to represent this area at Geneva. The League of Nations Union has requested that a delegate be sent from Victoria and district to the Peace Congress. Mr. Dent has consented to represent both movements.

The sum of $400 is required by August 8 to enable Mr. Dent to make the necessary transportation arrangements. Victorians and those in the district will, I feel sure make it possible for this young emissary to go to Geneva to speak for youth and to speak for peace and good will to men.

The Peace Congress is sponsored by men and women of world-wide repute, including such names as the Archbishop of Canterbury and York, Viscount Cecil, Bishop Partridge of Montreal, the Earl of Lytton, Sir Herbert Samuel, M.P., United States Senators Gerald K. Nye and George W. Norris, Rt. Hon. Lord Howard of Penrith, Rt. Hon. Lord Dickinson, Lady Gladstone, John Macfie, Poet Laureate, etc. Subscriptions may be left with Mr. Frank Paulding, general secretary Y.M.C.A., J. R. SCOBY, Hightfield, Cadboro Bay.

BETTER TIMES ON THE FARM

From The Okanagan Times
The sale of three very valuable and well-located farms in South Ontario, as reported in these columns last week, indicates two things: First, that after a lull of perhaps three or four years, good farms are again in demand; and, second, that there are still those who believe that the great farming industry is on the way to a period of better times. Another indication that cash is more plentiful on the farms was had from an auction sale held last Thursday when some animals sold for as high as $800. One brought over $600 and good prices, better than have prevailed for years, were paid.

ECONOMISTS—AND BUTTONS

Charles Michelson, the Democratic party's chief press agent at Washington, D.C., recently hired a prominent economist to help his publicity staff during the campaign.
"Now what do you want me to do?" the economist asked.
"If I knew what I wanted you to do, I'd do it myself," Michelson replied. "You see this button on my coat? It's useless. It doesn't button anything. But you look funny if you don't have a button there."
"That's the way with an economist. He doesn't button anything. But people think it's funny if you don't have one."

CLASSIFIED

From The Ottawa Citizen
Beans are seeds, potatoes are leaves, onions are bulbs, cabbages are tubers, radishes are roots and tomatoes are fruit.

POLITICALLY MINDED

"John, dear, I lost part of my household allowance at bridge."
"Just another sort of budget leak."

Legal Questions

The service supplied by this department is free to readers of The Times. We do not permit the publication here of the answer to every question sent in, but answers will be personally replied to by mail if accompanied with a 3-cent stamp. All communications will be treated confidentially.
Question: Can a landlord, on a seizure for rent, seize the goods of a tenant purchased on conditional sale and not fully paid for?
Answer: The landlord is entitled to the tenant's equity in such goods, and may accordingly take possession of them.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoons of Salada Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1½ cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir well until sugar is dissolved, fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water, otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chopped ice.

LIBERALS TO HOLD PICNIC

Monster Gathering at Willows Beach Next Wednesday; Pattullo to Speak

Plans are well advanced for the monster basket picnic of the Victoria and District Liberal Association to be held at the Willows

Beach next Wednesday, August 5. Commencing at 2:30 o'clock, a splendid programme of sports, under the chairmanship of Dr. Hugh Clarke, will be run off. A baby show for children under two years of age and born in Greater Victoria district will be a feature attraction.

Loud speakers will be installed and speeches by Premier Pattullo and other prominent Liberals will be delivered. Various forms of entertainment are being arranged by the entertainment committee under W. H. Kinsman and will be announced at a later date.

Hot water, tea, coffee, milk and sugar will be supplied free on the grounds. The B.C. Electric and Blue Line will operate special services for the picnic.

STRAWBERRY VALE

Mrs. W. T. O'Shaughnessy, Nanaimo, accompanied by her son and daughter, Pat and Betty, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mackie, North Road.

James Groutage, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Groutage, Girda Road, returned to Trail on Thursday. Miss Gladys Allan, who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Groutage, has also returned to Trail.

Famous Woman Explorer Here

Dr. Jill Cossey Batt Headed Tibetan Expedition in 1931

Dr. Jill Cossey Batt, O.B.E., one of the world's most intrepid women explorers, is a visitor to Victoria. She is staying at the James Bay Hotel.

With her husband, Dr. Irwin Baird, Dr. Cossey Batt headed the British-American expedition into the interior of Tibet in 1931, during which they traced the "lost-tribe" of the Chaldeans, a group of some 800 people isolated in the remote heights of the Himalayas, speaking the ancient Sumerian language.

Dr. Cossey Batt has the distinction of having been the first white woman to enter the Kalahari desert of Africa. She has crossed the Australian continent alone, and has explored remote parts of the Orient.

Following her exploration in Tibet, she wrote "Elixir of Life," a book telling how the people of that region preserve their youth through the use of the native plants. She believes people in all parts of the world may benefit as they have through the proper use of the weeds and other plants that grow around them.

Dr. Cossey Batt yesterday interviewed Dr. S. J. Willis of the Department of Education in connection with the use of her book in British Columbia schools.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

JULY 31, 1911

(From The Times Files)

The peaceful hours of the early morning were disturbed in the city on Sunday by the shriek of fire sirens as the full complement of the city's fire fighting apparatus raced to the scene of an outbreak at Taylor's lumber mills, on Government Street. The lumber company claim the damage was $100,000.

The congregational picnic of the Christ Church Cathedral held Thursday, was voted a success, being terminated by a cricket match between two evenly matched sides captained by Miss Cook and Miss Wollaston.

The Fifth Regiment band gave a fine concert in Beacon Hill Park yesterday afternoon, the programme rendered being an unusually good one. There was a large attendance and the music was greatly appreciated.

The Victoria Automobile Association is being represented at the Pacific Highway Convention in Portland on Friday and Saturday next by its president, John A. Turner and A. E. Todd.

To form the backbone of the new provincial library when it is housed in the fine new library wing to be erected on Parliament Square, the historical library of Mr. Justice Martin has been acquired on behalf of the government. By Ethelbert O. S. Schofield, librarian and archeologist of the province.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

Great hero of Republican party ideals is Alexander Hamilton. Opposed to Thomas Jefferson, he insisted on a strong, conservative Constitution and on adherence strictly to the letter. As first Secretary of the Treasury, he had the United States assume the debts of the individual states, to re-establish public credit and put the government on a firm financial basis. Hamilton founded a national bank, improved the system of duties, and, in general, proved himself one of America's leading financiers. He had been a captain in the Revolutionary Army under Washington, and in 1782 was elected as a delegate from New York to the Continental Congress. In 1787 he became delegate to the constitutional convention and helped Madison draw up the Constitution.

He strongly supported the federal power and the Constitution in a series of letters which he later published under the title, "The Federalist." His death, in 1804, came from a fatal wound inflicted by Aaron Burr, with whom he had become involved in a political quarrel.

Hamilton's picture appears on the 30-cent black stamp of 1870, and the same value in brown, issued in 1898.

Undersecretaries In Britain Changed

London, July 31.—Several changes in under-secretarial posts were announced by the government yesterday evening.

The Earl of Plymouth, parliamentary under-secretary of state for the colonies, becomes parliamentary under-secretary for foreign affairs. Earl De La Warr, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of agriculture, takes the colonial under-secretaryship.

When you decide to build a home consult a reputable architect. It is wise economy.

But depreciation costs with RED CEDAR

BUILDING a home ... your own home, is a thrilling experience, the very thought of materializing your own ideas of design, layout and construction is an indescribable pleasure ... equalled only by the sheer joy of crossing the threshold as the door closes and you step into the completeness of it all.

Home owning is also a business. The difference between the first and the last cost depends almost entirely upon the quality of materials and workmanship. The first cost is known ... the last cost is too often a gamble.

What price depreciation? Consider it now before you build, insist on materials that cut the cost of depreciation and minimize the last cost to you.

Take Red Cedar for instance. There are at least fifteen places in home construction where Red Cedar can be used to advantage. Of major importance are the roof and side-walls. A roof of British Columbia "Edge-Grain" Red Cedar Shingles is not only time-defying; it provides a measure of insulation that is amply demonstrated in frigid weather by lowered heating costs and cool comfort during hot spells.

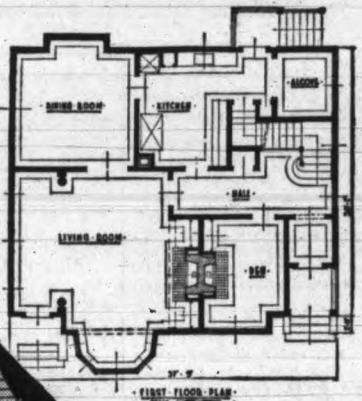

Red Cedar Side-walls complete a perfect exterior, with protection from all weather conditions.

Consider also the sheer beauty of this native, everlasting wood ... the natural-like symmetry of shingle or shake and the attractive shadow line of deep and thick butted Red Cedar Siding.

By all means consider the last cost ... remember, British Columbia "Edge-Grain" Red Cedar Shingles and Red Cedar Siding minimize exterior depreciation costs.

ROYAL OAK

In honor of Bert Gorby, celebrating his twenty-first birthday, a number of friends entertained at a surprise party at the home of Mrs. D. Robertson, North Quadra Street. Games and dancing were enjoyed and a large birthday cake with twenty-one candles held place of honor on the supper table. The guests included: Misses Grace Scott, Marjory Nott, Margaret Berger, Catherine Watson, Jean Scott, Allen Robertson, Helen Hudson, "Pat" Lock and Messrs. Bert Gorby, Mickey Russell, George Robinson, Ted Whitehead, Edward McKinley, Robert Stevenson, Bill Scott and Bill Stevenson.

Mrs. M. Spillet, Dauphin, Man., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. H. P. Stetick and Mrs. Vincent Rush, at Old West Road and Brentwood Bay.

Mrs. A. Doyle, Old West Road, returned Tuesday from spending a vacation at Long Beach, West Coast.

The Misses Evelyn, Winnifred and Beryl Whitehead, West Saanich Road, left on Monday to spend two weeks' vacation at Mount Rainer, Wash.

Mrs. K. Mead-Robins, entertained friends at tea at her home on the East Saanich Road on Wednesday. Frank Miller, Old West Road, who was injured working on the Malahat on Saturday, is improving in St. Joseph's Hospital.

The Misses Margaret and Aileen Sprett, Oleg Harbor, Wash., returned home after a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Swales, Markham Road.

QUEBEC HARBOR DEFICIT

Quebec, July 31 (Canadian Press).—A deficit of $257,587 was shown in the 1935 report of Quebec Harbor, with receipts at $506,422 compared with expenditures at $624,009. Corresponding figures in 1934 were $549,257 revenue and $662,463 expenditure. Immigration authorities examined 2,897 persons arriving from Europe in 1935, compared with 2,990 in 1934.

POUNCES ON FIRST PLAY

Declarer Benefits by Opponent's Favorable Lead and Squeezes Him for Small Slam Contract

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

As the days grow warmer, the eyes of bridge players, throughout the east especially, are turning longingly to Asbury Park, N.J., where the summer session of the American Bridge League begins August 3, and lasts through the week. There will be opportunity for the competitors in this tournament, the most important of the year, to combine bridge play with bathing and joining in the boardwalk parade.

One of the biggest events on the programme is the masters' pair game. The year has added many master bridge players, and the entry list will be much greater than ever before.

A hand played last year in this event by one of the younger masters, Charles Vogelhofer, illustrates how the good player seizes upon as simple a thing as a favorable opening lead to fulfill a contract which at first sight appears impossible.

South won the opening lead of the two of diamonds with the nine and then laid down the king of trump, hoping to find West with the queen.

Today's Contract Problem

West is playing the contract at three no trump. The opening lead is won with the queen. West cashes his two high hearts and one spade, then leads the club six. What card should North play?

♠ A 7 2	♥ A 5
♦ Q 5 3	♣ J 10 9 8
♠ A	♥ 4 2
♦ J 8 7 5 3 2	♣ 4 3 2
♠ K Q 6	♥ J 10 9 8 4 3
♦ A K	♣ 7 6
♠ J 10 9 6	♥ K Q 8 7
♦ A Q 6	♣ 10

None vul. Opener—♠ 5
Solution in next issue.

He then led the ace and followed with the ten, East winning. East returned a club. Vogelhofer won with the ace, and played all the remaining trump.

Before playing to the last trump, West was down to the Q-10-6 of diamonds, the king of spades, and the king of clubs. On the last trump, he dropped the king of spades.

Then South led a diamond to the ace and followed with the ace of spades. West again was squeezed, as he could not hold both the king of clubs and protection in the diamond suit.

SAANICH WILL PAY INTEREST

After Argument Council Decides to Pay $354 Owing to Province

Saanich will pay the $354.41 interest owing on a note of $16,000 from the provincial government.

The question of the payment of this interest on money loaned for relief purposes caused a stir in an otherwise peaceful council meeting, yesterday evening.

As soon as the communication from the provincial government drawing attention to the fact that the sum was due July 30 was read, Councillors L. C. Hagan and Leslie Pasmore moved that it be filed as read.

Councillor A. G. Lambrick declared that would mean repudiation. "As soon as the British Government pays its debts off we will pay ours," Councillor Pasmore said. A should be the burden of the province, he said. The interest rate on all debt mand notes had been reduced by 1 per cent to 3 1/2 per cent. The $354.41 interest was partly on the old 4 1/2 per cent basis and partly at the new 3 1/2 per cent rate.

Government scientists find that, although tea seed oil cannot be detected by taste when used in adulterating olive oil, a chemical test reveals the adulteration by a color

BUILD CAIRN TO SAANICH PASTOR
The Saanich council gave permission for the erection of a monument to the memory of the late Rev. W. T. Currie, D.D., pioneer missionary of the Victoria Presbytery to the council. He pointed out that 1896 was the fiftieth anniversary of the missionary setting out for Africa.

Beaver Lake Road and the West Saanich Road, near the site of his former home, "provided that no objection was raised by the provincial government," yesterday evening.

Dr. J. S. Plaskett, on behalf of the Historical Association, who are acting in an advisory capacity to the United Church in the erection of this memorial, also addressed the

Tennis Club Hosts At Dance

Visiting Players Are Entertained at Yacht Club Party

With visiting players from California, Washington, Oregon, as well as the B.C. mainland as the guests of honor, the flannel dance at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club yesterday evening was the social highlight of the B.C. tennis championship week. The Victoria Lawn Tennis Club acted as hosts, Mrs. H. A. Tomalin and Mr. Lionel Huxtable being in charge of the arrangements.

Len Acres and his orchestra provided the excellent programme of music for the dancing. The main lounge, where dancing took place, was attractively arranged with summer flowers, the fireplace being flanked with standard baskets filled with hollyhocks, chrysanthemums and clarkias, similar flowers being massed on the mantelpiece. Supper was served in the upstairs dining-room, summer flowers also centering the buffet table.

Among the many dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Noel Collison, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Collison, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. J. Del Amo, Mrs. Mead Woodson, Mrs. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Tomalin, Lieut.-Commander and Mrs. John Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKim, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Boy's Hearing Is Suddenly Restored

Associated Press
Milwaukee, July 31.—His hearing suddenly restored during a minor operation, six-year-old Carl Thiel Jr. today sought to bridge the gap between six years of deafness and a new world of strange, harsh sounds. Carl's ears were plugged with cotton to keep out the jumble of noises—soft to those accustomed to them, which make him wince with pain. Each day his mother removes the cotton for a lesson in translating sounds into words and phrases.

Velvet Gowns For Fall Brides

Manhattan Show Reveals New Trends For Autumn

By MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER
Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, July 31.—Velvet plays a leading role in Manhattan's promenade of 1936 fall fashions. It ranks with feather-light wools and dull-finished, rich-toned silks as a favorite autumn fabric in the design salons.

Too Poor to Claim Fortune in Person

Associated Press
Hollywood, Cal., July 31.—A mere trifle to Paris is standing between Lillian Elliott Castle, seventy-two-year-old film bit player, and a $600,000 legacy, she said today.

is finding it hard to save the passage money. Last May 25 she was informed by cablegram from Paris that the estate of her late uncle, Georges la Mont-dier, had been bequeathed her. Because of involved litigation, no money could be advanced to her unless she appeared in person and made her claim, Miss Castle was told.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

CHILD WHOSE PROBLEMS ARE TOO DIFFICULT HAS TANTRUMS OR QUITS TRYING

No human can stand constant failure of his efforts. Any individual, child or adult, must be successful some of the time.

Keep this in mind when you are trying to interpret your small child's apparently unjustifiable anger—or his refusal to try new things.

Let us suppose that the two-year-old is given a set of building toys of simple design. Lured by the parent's promises that this is going to be lots of fun the child attempts to put them together in the design that is most easily accomplished. As a further incentive the father, nimbly and easily, shows the child exactly how it is done.

ISN'T HE AWFUL!

But after fifteen minutes of effort the design refuses to fall. As fast as the child puts one stick into the slot provided for it, the sticks falls out. The child is too young, the design really too complex.

The net result is inevitably that the child begins to kick and scream, the sticks are thrown to the four winds and the mother wails "Oh, isn't he awful. He just won't try to do anything. He's so impatient."

She says this when the child tears the suit that, despite his frenzied efforts, just won't pull over his protruding legs. She bewails his disposition to kick the chiffonier drawer when his most masterful efforts won't budge it an inch.

ANGER OR INDIFFERENCE

What has happened in all of these cases is that the child is being set a task too hard for him and the inevitable result, because of his age, is persistent failure.

Persistent failure results in heel kicking, shrieking, anger—or else leads to indifference and a refusal to try again. What's the use of trying—thinks the child—I just can't do it. And if he hasn't the ability to think this out, at least he knows from his own experience that effort is futile.

Our leaflet, "How to Deal With Temper Tantrums," which offers other reasons for a child's anger, may be had for a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

Tomorrow, just because your baby cries, don't conclude he has colic.

TO HOLD 'COUNTRY PAYRE'

The Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral will hold their "Country Payre" at Bishop's Close, Vancouver Street, on Wednesday afternoon, August 5, at 3 o'clock. A number of attractions are being arranged. In the lovely old garden, and tea will be served.

An iceless refrigerator that works very well on the farm is made by covering a wooden frame with feed sacks which are kept moist by a drip system or by having the ends of the sacks in water.

Of the two kinds of leaves possessed by the walking fern, only those with long-drawn out, slender tips are able to "walk" and grow new plants.

ORPHANS AT SOOKE CAMP

Children Enjoy Races, Entertainment During Annual Outing

Twenty-five youngsters from the Orphanage on their annual outing joined fifty happy mothers and children yesterday evening at the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp in a programme of sports and entertainment organized by the Friendly Help Welfare Association.

When the chartered bus bearing its load of musicians and singing children arrived at the camp, it was greeted by excited cheers, the campers having been aware all day that there was to be a surprise.

W. H. Davies, Stan James and Len Foster arranged races as the children intermingled and dashed about playing tag. Even the married women of the camp joined in the spirit of the evening and competed in a fast fifty-yard dash.

Religion—high when—skipping ropes, tin boats, dolls and books were given out as prizes. Every child received some souvenir.

Frank Lavery, William Patinaude, Maurice Buckley, Len Foster and Stan James, playing stringed instruments and mouth organs, accompanied the mothers and children in songs indoors as the evening grew cooler.

The assembly was mystified by the tricks of Frank Merryfield.

Mrs. Williamson, camp mother; Miss L. McLaughlin, secretary, and Miss Williamson and Miss Cameron, assistants, helped distribute ice cream, candy and fruit to the youngsters during the programme of music and magic.

"We're having a marvelous time," said one sun-bronzed mother as she munched a banana. "We don't have to do anything but trivial work," she admitted. "We swim and rest and go on picnics. The time's going much too quickly."

The camp is organized to give needy mothers a brief summer vacation, free from worry and hard work.

Mrs. E. Harkness was in charge of the group of children from the orphanage. The Sunshine Camp is directed and owned by the Friendly Help Welfare Association. Dr. Olga Jardine is chairman of the camp committee; W. H. Davies is treasurer, and Miss L. McLaughlin camp superintendent.

Prize-winners in the races were: Girls, 16 and under—Joyce Gill, Kathleen Battle; under 14, Daphne Gill, Ellen Gill; under 12, Violet Glenn, Alice Begon; under 9, Mary Nevitt, Bertha Begon.

Girls, 10 and under (home)—Joan Stewart, Pat Clarke, Paty Burkmarr; under 9, Edith Ferguson, Sylvia Bryant; under 8, Eleanor Briggs, Evelyn Baldwin.

Boys, under 9—D. Stanton, Bob Donahue, O. Ellington; under 8, Eric Gill, Sonny Begon, Stanley Robinson; under 7, Robert Baldwin, Mervyn Briggs, George Bryant.

Mothers—Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Lalep.

Donors of prizes, cash and merchandise were: Cash prizes—Tom Merriman, Ben Pregel, Empire Realty Co., Anonymous.

Merchandise—Joe cream, cakes, candy and fruit; Wm. Monteith, Floral Art Co., Oppenheim and Wood, Dale's Roast Chicken Co., Kresge's, Woolworth Ltd., Cream Puff Bakery, Boy's-Brown's Bakery, English Bakery, Mrs. E. Bean, Mrs. W. H. Davies, and Mrs. Max Leiser.

PRETTY TEETH DEPEND ON DAILY CARE

White, sparkling teeth are important to any woman's beauty. Nature may not have blessed you with nicely shaped, perfectly white teeth, but modern science and the dental profession have provided you with ways and means to keep them clean and shining. There is no excuse for dingy, faded teeth that spoil your smile.

You know, of course, that you ought to see your dentist at least twice a year and that you should brush your teeth two or three times a day. Make sure that you brush correctly—downward on the upper, upward on the lower ones and with rotary motion inside and out. Be careful not to force the gums away from the teeth. Ask your dentist to recommend a dentifrice which will remove stains as well as food particles and film.

You ought to use dental floss at least once a day. This removes foreign particles which cannot be reached with a toothbrush. Remember, too, that it is a good idea to use a mouth wash after each cleansing.

Select toothbrushes (everyone needs two) with firm (not soft, but not harsh) bristles. Keep them being up so the bristles will have a chance to dry thoroughly after each brushing. If, in spite of this, they seem to get too soft, rinse with a strong solution of salt and water. Let the salt water dry on the brush.

Incidentally, baking soda is one of the finest cleansing agents for stained teeth. You may not like the taste of it, but it will do the trick. If your budget does not allow for a commercially prepared mouth wash, try plain salt and water.

Dies Suddenly In England

THE LATE MRS. VICTOR G. BRODEUR

A host of friends in Victoria will learn with very sincere regret of the death of Mrs. Doris Brodeur, wife of Capt. V. G. Brodeur, R.C.N., who passed away suddenly in London, England, on Wednesday. She is survived by her husband and two sons. Mrs. Brodeur was a resident of Esquimalt for some years while her husband was stationed here as Commander-in-Charge, leaving here with him about two and a half years ago for England. They were to have sailed tomorrow for Canada.

Suffragettes Disturbed Meeting

Demonstration Halts Business Women's Conference

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, July 31.—Demonstrating suffragettes disrupted yesterday's session of the congress of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women at which Miss Frances Perkins, United States Secretary of Labor, and Miss Mary Mount, president of the Canadian Federation, were speakers.

The uproar occurred when Mme. Cecile Brunschwig, French under-secretary of education, rose to introduce Miss Perkins. She was greeted by shouts of "We want the vote! We want the vote!"

Hotel employees, when they went to quiet the women, found many of them chained to their chairs. Hotel detectives threatened to eject them, chairs and all, whereupon the women produced keys to the locks on the chains, freed themselves and left the building.

The political franchise bill which would give the vote to all qualified French citizens, regardless of sex, must still pass the Senate.

Quadruplets Have New Nursery

British Babies Are Established In New Quarters

Canadian Press Cable
St. Neots, Huntingdonshire, July 31.—Anne, Ernest, Paul and Michael, Britain's bouncing quads, moved into their new nursery yesterday.

Over the opening ceremony of their much-publicized play-quarters presided George Lansbury, M.P., an old-time Labor firebrand and sometime Leader of the Opposition.

Canon Phillips, rector of Eynsbury, where the quads were christened, gave the nursery his blessing.

Built at a cost of $450 ($2,250), the nursery is attached to the parents' home. The windows are of special glass and overlook a pretty flower garden. The walls are of a pale peach color with green woodwork.

"It was never so fortunate as to get four at once," said Lansbury, "but I have twelve altogether and nineteen grandchildren."

Mrs. Miles, mother of the quads, said she had received several anonymous letters criticizing her for having exhibited the babies for a fee.

"The fact is I did not want them on view at all," she said, "but the cost of keeping them is so much more than for ordinary children. Even so it is a struggle to provide their special diet and whatnot."

"I think if I lost my babies as Mrs. Dionne lost hers, I should go off my head," she added.

The quads are on view to the public once a week at a charge of a shilling (twenty-five cents).

Summer show at the Willows opens Friday at 2 p.m., Saturday at 10 a.m.

City Temple Fete Drew Big Crowd

Flags of gay sunshades decorated the gardens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Snider, Camrose Crescent, Wednesday afternoon when the Women's Auxiliary to the City Temple, assisted by the Ladies League, held their garden party. Mr. G. A. Hebdon, president of the City Temple, opened the fete and acted as master of ceremonies for the day. Mrs. D. Hull, vice-president of the auxiliary, was the general convenor.

Tea and supper were in charge of Mrs. McGuire and her committee. The stall had many attractive articles for sale, which found ready purchasers. The fancywork stall was in charge of Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Nash; the touch-and-take, Miss Nora Martin; the home cooking, Mrs. Sabiston; ice cream and soft drinks, Mrs. Smith; house-holds, Captain B. Gadsden and Mr. D. Hull; tea-cup reading, Mrs. Birkett and Mrs. Sinclair; character reading, Madame Venetia.

A musical programme arranged by Mrs. Jackson and Miss Ordano was much enjoyed and included piano accordion solos by Miss Page Smith; a dance by Rhoda Leeman, a pupil of Miss Florence Clough; a song by Gwyneth Phillips; a reading by Mrs. Chappel and instrumental numbers by Mr. Lavery.

Pekingese Is In Social Register

Associated Press
New York, July 31.—Miss Rose Morris of New York City and Lenox, Mass., a four-year-old unpedigreed Pekingese, "came out" today in the summer edition of the social register of New York.

Actually, Rose's name has graced the "blue book," index of Gotham Society, since its publication last spring, but not until yesterday when a magazine (The New Yorker) and New York newspapers announced it publicly, did George Lovett King-Land Morris, as spokesman for the family, admit Rose had made the grade.

Morris blamed it all on Mrs. Morris, granddaughter of the late Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, Secretary of the State under President Chester Arthur. "She filled out the forms for the summer register and she didn't tell me until afterward that she had put Rose in for a joke," said Morris. Morris is a well-known artist.

YOUR CHILDREN

PLAY PLOT IN YARD GIVES CHILD AND PARENT A BREAK

By OLIVE ROBERTS-BARTON

"Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink."

Ground, ground everywhere and not an inch to play on. Thus runs Canto the Fifth of the modern poem. The first four concern public playgrounds, of which there are too few; apartment houses in crowded areas with no thought of hot little cliff-dwellers; houses without yards; long suburban streets of beautiful lawns and flower-beds with unprinted keep-off signs.

The latter can't be helped, because owners who take pride in property not only have a right to safeguard it, but are doing community service in beautifying their land.

The fifth article deals with available yards for "own" children. A few days ago I saw the ideal plan for dividing off the family plot so that mother and dad could have their share for lawn and flowers and the children their own domain as well.

SUBDIVIDE BACK YARD
We will skip the granium beds and lily pool and go on toward the little white picket fence—it was not a big yard—open the small gate and step inside.

A space eighteen feet or so square, was walled on two sides by a hedge, on one by a vine-covered garage wall and on the garden side by the picket fence. In one end was a sand-pile, a swing, a sliding board and a pipe with a shower.

Scattered about were dolls, balls, blocks and the usual toys, including a doll house, that also served for storage over night.

Two little girls, almost minus clothes, were playing there happily—one a mere baby.

"I call this perfect," remarked this visitor admiringly. "Not a thing to get hurt on. And everything seems to be here. A sort of sublimated playground."

"Exactly," assented the proud young mother. "I nagged at Charlie for a year before he got my idea. We had the space, shut in on two sides. All we needed was the fence and some more hedge. Charlie had the fence made in sections and put it up himself."

"The hedge was cheap and easy to grow fine."

"I don't have to worry about them falling off porches now, or wandering out on the street. I have work to do and I can turn them loose here until I'm finished. They can't reach the gate lock, or the shower valve. I turn that on them for awhile on hot days. If I didn't have that yard, I'd have to keep Baby in her little pen nearly all the time and she doesn't get exercise enough in it. Does can't get in the yard, and besides it's easier to shoo off older and sometimes troublesome children this way, too."

"It's something to suggest to other mothers," I remarked.

"And with my hearty endorsement," said she. "If they only knew what a grand relief it is."

So many good lots go to waste; it seems to me a plan well worth trying. If the fence is a problem, there's chicken-wire—strong, cheap and durable. And anybody can plant a hedge. Indeed it's hard to keep a good hedge down—or even one not so good. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service Inc.)

COUNCIL DOES BUSINESS FAST

Oak Bay Body Disposes of Agenda in Twenty Minutes

Something in the nature of a record for speedy dispatch of business was set by the Oak Bay Council at its session yesterday afternoon. Four communications, a lengthy report, three resolutions, the final passing of four by-laws and sundry minor matters were disposed of in twenty minutes flat.

The meeting began at 5.15 o'clock promptly. At 5.35 o'clock "exactly" Councilor R. Angus said, "I move we adjourn."

The letters included a report from the council's delegation to a recent meeting in connection with isolation hospital plans, a relief case, a communication from the deputy Minister of Municipalities with regard to an improvement plan, and a letter of thanks from the Salvation Army.

OLD ACT ALLOWED
The communication from the Department of Municipalities authorized the Council to make use of the Oak Bay Act of 1910, not invoked since 1913, instead of the regular Municipal Act in the case of appointment of sewer improvement costs on Satellite Street.

The Oak Bay Act which, though disused, has never been repealed, permits the assessment of these costs to only one side of the street when the other cannot drain into the sewer system, as is the case on Satellite Street.

The half-yearly relief statement was received and filed by the Council without comment.

The three resolutions were of a routine nature; one rescinding a previous decision of the council in connection with the pavement outside the new Oak Bay Theatre; the second, adopting the sewer and water frontage rolls, representing net totals of $7,099 and $13,246 respectively, and the third authorizing bus license renewals for the next six months.

The four by-laws given final reading dealt with the widening of King George Terrace and Beach Drive and two sales of lots.

BLAST KILLS WORKER

San Bernardino, Calif., July 31 (Associated Press).—Charles O. Brooks, twenty-two, was killed by a piece of rock as he sat eating lunch with a group of workers at the Parker Dam site. The rock came from a dynamite blast 1,000 feet away.

Eleventh Olympic Games Will Be Formally Opened Tomorrow

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

DESPITE financial losses at both Victoria and Vancouver, Bob Harlow, tournament manager for the Professional Golfers' Association of America, thinks the open tournaments in the Pacific Northwest will become annual events. Both the $5,000 open at Vancouver and the $3,000 local tournament here saw the backers go into the red rather badly. The tournaments produced some great golf but the galleries were not big enough to carry the stiff overhead. In Harlow's opinion, the game of golf will never draw tremendous galleries. "Golf is a gentleman's game and the lack of personal conflict keeps the spectators away," he said. "If there was big money to be made in golf tournaments the professional promoters would soon take it up. There is not a single promoter in golf."

In Harlow's opinion the promotion of open tournaments is a civic undertaking. "The amount of publicity secured from one of these tournaments makes it worth a city's while to write off any deficit to advertising. Take the annual Miami-Biltmore tournament, for instance. They have yet to break even, but the promoters figure the advertising is good business and are ready to go into the red. The annual north and south championship held at Pinehurst, N.C., is another big tournament that has never paid its way in twenty-three years."

All the visiting United States professionals who took part in the Oak Bay event liked the local course, but criticized the lack of long holes. Ralph Guldahl, husky pro from St. Louis, came forth with the following remark: "On this course you are just ironed to death." Lawson Little, former British and United States champion from San Francisco, said: "Play this course for a few weeks and you would forget how to use your woods."

"This," says Golda Gross, who accepts the title of the "veteran" campaigner in the women's section of the current tennis wars here, "is my Schumann-Heink farewell tour."

That is the Berkeley woman's reply to queries over the number of competitive years she has left in tournament tennis.

When did she start playing? Well, she doesn't remember. You see, there were fourteen years during which she foresook the courts to rear a family, two strapping boys of twenty-three and twenty at present. And then, too, the better half wasn't so hot on tournament play when they were first married.

Her most interesting matches? "Well, I played on the Riviera with Mr. G. That's Gustav, King of Sweden. Then there was a well-known count with whom I partnered for doubles in Switzerland."

When is a woman too old to play tennis? "There's one seventy-two who plays quite regularly in Bermuda, and she can get her racket to almost any shot, that is outside of drop shots and of course you don't play them when you're in the court against her."

Mrs. Gross, "Golda" to the family of youngsters who come up from California, thinks a lot of her tennis as a pastime. But that did not influence her in training her sons.

"They played tennis and very good games, too, but not a great deal of tournament stuff."

They didn't go on the tournament swings after they had quit school, Mrs. Gross didn't encourage that.

"You didn't want them to be tennis bums, in other words?" she was asked.

"Well, something like that."

Golda, who should know, figures young Frank Kovacs and Eddie Allio as the two boys to watch from California in the next few years.

They call Kovacs the coming Tilden. Others think he's a combination of Max Baer and Dizzy Dean.

She figures the best way to make a tennis player is to put a racket in his or her hand along with the baby spoon. But she admits she neglected to follow that advice with her sons.

"But then there's a saying, isn't there, about doing what I say, not what I do?" she queries.

The British Columbia Fly and Bait Casters Association will hold a general meeting this evening at the British Public School Club at 8 o'clock. The constitution will be drafted at the meeting and election of officers will follow. Anyone interested is asked to attend.

500,000 To See Colorful Parade Of Competitors

Canada's Representatives Will Take Part in Ceremony at Berlin

By ELMER DULMAGE

Berlin, July 31.—Berlin was the nerve centre of the athletic world today on the eve of the eleventh Olympiad, to be formally launched tomorrow under the most elaborate arrangements ever conceived for the gala sports show.

Upwards of 500,000 people probably will see and hear the dramatic ceremonies leading to the official opening by Chancellor Hitler at 4 p.m. (8 a.m. P.S.T.). The first day's programme will include youth demonstrations, ceremonies at the grave of the Unknown Soldier, the arrival of the Olympic torch-bearer from Greece and the colorful parade of the competitors—the Canadians resplendent in red blazers, white flannels or skirts, and white shoes.

The climax will come when the approximately 4,500 athletes representing fifty-three nations, headed by Bavarian who holds the Olympic middleweight weight-lifting title, take the idealistic oath in their behalf.

What the picture will be after the flag-waving subsides and the diplomats retire to the background will start unfolding Sunday with the opening of competition.

PRESS BANQUET

At a banquet yesterday evening, 1,200 newspapermen gathered from the four corners of the world, heard Dr. Paul Goebbels, Nazi minister of propaganda, deny there were propaganda motives connected with the games and deny critical stories about the "new Germany" spread outside by "emigrants." He invited the writers to observe Germany "as it actually is," and tell the world about it.

This speech followed an appeal by Finland, before the international Olympic committee in the afternoon for a return of the games to the spartan simplicity of their origin.

"We wouldn't attempt to compete with Germany in flags and dinners," commented Erik Frencshelk, mayor of Helsinki, in presenting the case for his city as opposed to the bid of Tokyo for the two games.

The Japs offered a transportation subsidy approximating $485,000, to offset costs of traveling to the Far East. There is indication of a keen desire for votes between the two nations for the question is decided by the international committee this afternoon.

Canada's hopes of landing the winter games of the next Olympiad were kept alive by the decision of the I.O.C. Not to award the ice and snow games until next year. Based on the Olympic motion for the placing of the summer and winter games in different countries, Norway also entered the lists for the next winter competition.

The eager athletes themselves will be welcomed to the centre of the elaborate stage Sunday, with the modern pentathlon, 100-metre dash, heats and high jump, shotput and wrestling trials setting in motion the two weeks' long programme. Canadian eyes will be focused mainly on Howie McPhee, the young Vancouver midget, in the dash.

For the United States contingent, set to defend the featured track and field championship, the start of competition will be a welcome release from a week of bickering and assorted ailments. A general convention prevails in the Olympic Village that the fortnight ahead will be full of surprises.

Most European countries present a far stronger front than they did at Los Angeles four years ago, when the traveling distance and the depression curtailed participation. Chairman Sam Manson, brimful of confidence, considers his Canadian team in some respects the strongest ever sent out by the Dominion.

Japan is formidably equipped to defend the men's swimming title, but Bob Pirie, the Toronto "fish" and holder of most Canadian records, figures to land some points for the Dominion. The women of Nippon, as well as the Dutch girls, will bid honors. Phyllis Dewar, Vancouver, will challenge strongly in the 100 and 400-metre dashes.

In the track and field divisions, a number of champions and world record-holders are sorely off form or ailing. Sweden's Harold Anderson, America's bulky Jack Torrance, Finland's Ratu Jarvinen are a trio of ailing record holders. Luigi Bealli, (Turn to Page 14, Column 2)

MASS SUICIDE

Loving their barren homes in the Mexican wastelands with a fiery passion that knows no weakening, the Yaqui Indians have fought for centuries to hold them first against the royal - Spanish government, then against the various Mexican governments that have attempted to drive them off.

In their numerous revolts against the Mexican inroads, the Yaquis dwindled terribly in numbers, for, in suppressing them, Mexican government adopted harsh methods in an effort to quell their fierce spirit. One of the most horrible occurrences of this nature happened when, in 1893,

WOULD GOVERN FISH TACKLE

Local Anglers Want Only Sporting Equipment Used in Sporting Waters

"That legislation be imposed authorizing any waters restricted to sport fishing be restricted to the use of sporting tackle only," was the recommendation of 200 members of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association at a general meeting held yesterday evening in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

The definition of sporting tackle was given as rod and reel and light hand lines with no more than eight ounces of weight on. This means that leaded lines would be barred. The members in making this move were thinking of their own waters, Saanich Inlet, and the recommendation will go before a meeting of the Vancouver Island Affiliated Fish and Game Association to be held in Nanaimo next month. If approved there, it will be sent through the proper channels.

Twenty-four buttons, two gold, five silver and seventeen bronze, were presented by Dr. Hugh Clarke, president, to anglers who reeled in the heavyweights during the last month or so.

The following received buttons: Gold buttons—Bill Rowe, 41 pounds; E. Sidwell, 48 pounds; 21½ pounds; Tommy Dick, 27½ pounds; J. Barr, 31 pounds; H. J. Adams, 38 pounds; H. R. Fletcher, 38½ pounds.

Bronze buttons—Edgar "Red" Wells, 22½ pounds; Mrs. B. Mayberry, New South Wales, 23 pounds; Edy Short, 21½ pounds; Tommy Dick, 27½ pounds; A. Clemet, 23 pounds; T. W. General Otero of the Mexican army ordered the imprisonment of the entire Yaqui population of Navajoa—then hung so many of them that it was necessary to use each rope for five or six executions when the fresh rope supply was exhausted.

Yaqui uprisings came to their height under the rule of Mexican President Diaz and in punishment he conceived the idea of transporting all of them to Yucatan, Chiapas and Tabasco as laborers.

Rather than go to the new land, 100 of the exiles, southbound by ship from Guaymas, hurled their children into the sea—then jumped in after them to be reunited in death.

RING CARD ON THIS EVENING

Victoria Athletic Club Boxers and Wrestlers to Show at Athletic Park

With six boxing bouts and one wrestling engagement listed the Victoria Athletic Club will stage its weekly show at the Athletic Park this evening, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

In the main boxing event Pete Tyson will oppose Bill Binnington at 135 pounds. The only wrestling engagement will bring together Eric Whitewad and Bill Taffe, lightweights.

One of the features of the card will be the appearance of Young Joe Bayley, son of the former Canadian lightweight champion. "Pop" will be in the stands watching his youngster in action.

The remainder of the card follows: George Gauthiers vs. Dickie Reid, eighty pounds; Red Knowles vs. Young Mildrew, eighty-five pounds; Red James vs. Roy Deville, ninety pounds, and Ken Earl vs. Al Deville, ninety pounds.

The first bout will get under way at 8:30 o'clock.

Saanich May Have New Soccer Field

The new park at Marigold may have a soccer field.

At a meeting of the Saanich council yesterday evening, H. H. Allen, municipal engineer, was instructed to get in touch with the playground committee in Ward Four and make a report on the possibility of building a football field in that district.

Though necessary funds are not available at the present time it was suggested that relief labor might be used in building the field in the new park whose location has been approved by the provincial government.

Silent Glows Win After Tight Game

Hurls Second Perfect Game

Newark, July 31.—Bill Harris, right-hand pitching ace of the Buffalo Bisons of the International League, hurled his second no-hit, no-run game of the season yesterday evening with a 4 to 0 win over the Newark Bears in the second game of a doubleheader.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher struck out seven men and walked but one in yesterday evening's effort. On June 3 he turned the no-hit trick against the Toronto Leafs, winning 2 to 0.

Connecting beautifully with two of Moir's slants for a pair of home runs to account for four runs, Bill Levy led the Silent Glows to a 9 to 7 victory over Brunson's Boys yesterday evening at the Athletic Park in the fourth game of the lower island softball championship.

The result tied the series at one win apiece. Two games of the series have ended in ties. The next game will take place Tuesday evening at the Athletic Park at 6:15 o'clock.

Levy went to bat four times and got as many hits. Besides his two home runs he got a triple and a single.

OPEN SCORE

With one out in the first inning Levy hammered out a three-bagger to left field. Buzz Brown sacrificed to bring him home for the first run of the game.

Brunson's evened matters in the fourth. Munro laced out a hard one to centre field and galloped around three bases. Fleming made another of his brilliant catches when Barnswell drove a high ball out into his centre-field territory, but in throwing the ball home he was wild, allowing Munro to score.

Levy gave Silent Glows a substantial lead over their opponents when he crashed out his first homer in their half of the fifth frame and drove Jones in ahead of him.

Hammering out a barrage of knocks in their half of the seventh frame that resulted in four runs Brunson's Boys took the lead 5 to 3.

A triple hit by Russ Dunnett started the parade off and he came home for the first run after Brown had fumbled a hot drive from Ericson. Moir's two-bagger brought in Ericson. A sacrifice sent Moir across the plate for the third run of this inning. Fleming dropped Barnswell's high fly and was responsible for Jacklin crossing the plate with the final run.

Silent Glows evened up in the seventh when Levy connected with his second homer. He drove in Dunc ahead of him, after the latter had hurried around to third on a three-base hit.

Brunson's went to the front again 7 to 5 in their half of the eighth inning by sending a pair of runners the distance. Ericson was responsible for the scoring in this session. His circuit drive brought in Dunnett ahead of him.

TIMELY HIT

With Lamb and Morgan on second and third, Fleming came to bat and slapped a beauty to right centre field and drove the runner in to make the score 7 to 7. Levy gave Silent Glows victory by pushing a nice hit over the second baseman's head and bringing in a pair of runners to put the game on ice.

Jones was nicked for thirteen bingles by Brunson, while the buntermen made all nine hits they collected from Moir good for markers.

CASTING MEET ON TOMORROW

Fly Fishermen to Compete For Island Championship at Shawnigan Lake

Vancouver Island fly fishermen will converge at Shawnigan Lake tomorrow afternoon in quest of the Jim Price Cup, symbolic of the Vancouver Island fly-casting championship, and other prizes donated by local fishing tackle stores and sportsmen. The competition will start at 3 o'clock and is being held in conjunction with Shawnigan Day. There will be five events.

There will be three judges governing the competition. Austin Spencer, editor of The Western Angler magazine in Vancouver, has been appointed chief judge, with Col. F. G. Hood and J. P. Archibald as his assistants.

Roger Monthie and Col. F. G. Hood have donated scrips for the two first senior prizes. Peden Brothers, Robinson's, Plimley and Ritchie and Wilson and Lefevy will contribute prizes for winners in the other events.

Some of the rules governing the meet are: The judge's decisions will be final on all points; field equipment must be used and subject to inspection; scores shall be based on an average of five casts; entries will be received at any local sporting goods store and post entries will be received up to within fifteen minutes of the competition; rods will be weighed in by the committee in charge.

FIGHT CARD AT QUALICUM

Victoria Athletic Club Boys Give Fine Programme

Qualicum Beach, July 30.—An interesting programme of boxing and wrestling was staged here Wednesday evening by members of the Victoria Athletic Club under the supervision of their instructor, Louis Callan.

The programme of events was run off quickly, and the boys from Victoria gave a commendable exhibition in all departments. In the boxing events Dicky Reid defeated Billy Collier in the eighty-pound division and Roy Duval won from Phil Mosser in the 100-pound section. Al Duval at ninety pounds drew with Ken Earl.

The bouts were featured by an exhibition between Louis Callan and Roy Duval.

Another exhibition bout followed between Red Knowles and Al Duval. Alf Lacey won from Doug Leask with one fall in a wrestling match featured by plain wrestling while, as a contrast, Bill Taffe and Eric Whitehead gave a demonstration of the "anything goes" style of grappling.

The programme was under the auspices of the Church of the Little Flower and was concluded with a brief address of thanks by Rev. J. Kennedy, who presented Callan with a set of brushes on behalf of the congregation.

Tommy Loughran Draws With McCoy

Montreal, July 31.—Aging Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, lasted long enough to gain a draw against Al McCoy, young French-Canadian heavyweight, in a stirring twelve-round fight here yesterday evening.

Loughran, at 183½, had a two-pound advantage over the twenty-two-year-old French-Canadian boy. There were no knockdowns.

The decision, after twelve rounds of hard slugging, in which the Philadelphia boxer was outboxed when McCoy shifted from heavy punching, met almost the entire disapproval of more than 8,000 fans.

Keen Matches As Players Reach B.C. Tennis Semi-finals

Hippenstiel and Hughes Continue Upset Victories

Pair For Doubles Win After Litter Defeats D. Bennett; Kovacs Shines in Defeat

SEMI-FINALS ON THIS AFTERNOON

The men's British Columbia singles tennis championship, 1936 edition, became a closed California event at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club yesterday afternoon as a select three joined San Bernardino's Bob Hippenstiel in the semi-final bracket.

Major upset in the division, saw Verne Hughes, Long Beach, eliminate Dick Bennett, Berkeley, rated in the top three in the tournament seedings.

Johnny Murio, San Francisco Hawaiian, winner of the title in 1933, advanced at the expense of Ed. Allou, Berkeley, after the youngster had displayed a marvelous mastery of strokes to take six games in the two sets from his more experienced and powerful opponent.

Elwood Cooke, Portland, who retained his P.N.W. men's sectional singles crown Wednesday, was only a tired boy with an ulcerated tooth yesterday as he fell before Paul Newton, Berkeley, in straight sets. Cooke took the first two games of the opening set and then lost twelve in a row.

CONTINUE UPSETS

Bob Hippenstiel, San Bernardino, winner of his quarter final in morning play, continued to wreck the seedings as he and Verne Hughes, another Californian on the top of his game, beat the select university of California pair of Bennett and Newton in three sets, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5.

Chuck Weesner, Berkeley, half the Canadian doubles championship team last year, bowed out of the doubles with Cooke as L. Nelson, Los Angeles, and Mel Dranga, Seattle, came back after a stunning second set loss to win their match, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5.

Weesner delighted the crowd with a sparkling display of heady tennis in the second set, scoring neatly on cross-court chops and rifling drives down the centre when Dranga and Nelson became disorganized. Dranga's drives and lob and Nelson's court coverage and placements brought them back to take the deciding set.

Frank Kovacs, sixteen-year-old native Hungarian, playing from Berkeley, drew the major applause during the afternoon, despite the fact he and Ben Neiden, Berkeley, dropped their match with John Murio, San Francisco, and Dick Hyde, Pittsburg, Cal.

SENIOR PLAY

Kovacs, a boy Californian's rate for Davis Cup play in another two years, hit the hardest service on the court and smashed and drove with greater speed than anyone in the section.

Murio and Hyde finally won, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5. In the mixed doubles, Frances Del Amo and J. Knemeyer, Los Angeles, were forced to extra games to beat the good San Francisco pair of Virginia Wolfenden and J. R. Kinney, while Mrs. Golda Myer Gross and Dick Hyde beat Miss E. Young, Vancouver, and Jack Hall, Los Angeles, 9-7, 6-3. Dr. Bartosh and Verne Hughes completed a big day for the latter with a straight-set victory over Miss R. Sherman, Victoria, and C. C. Weesner, Berkeley, dropping only two games.

CHAMPIONS EXTENDED

Defending champions Margaret Laird, Glendale, and Ray Casey, Los Angeles, were carried to three sets to defeat Mildred Philippen, Victoria, and Ben Neiden, Berkeley.

Consolation singles, veterans' singles and junior play continued during the day. Complete results of the afternoon play follow:

Men's Singles, Quarter Finals

Italy, and Lauri Lehtinen and Volmar Hoilo, Finland, have only limited chances in the belief of many observers.

Among the new stars expected to flash across the Olympic skies are Jesse Owens, triple threat from the United States; Jack Lovelock from New Zealand and England's Godfrey Brown.

The lanky, muscular Howie McPhee, from Vancouver, in the sprint; the equally long and slender Sammy Richardson, Toronto, in the hop step and jump; and possibly the broad jump; the previously proven Phil Edwards, Hamilton, in the middle-distance runs; are considered Canada's best bets.

Altogether nineteen sports, including four with feminine competition, will keep the athletes busy during the next two weeks. The swimmers have another week and the equestrian a fortnight before swinging into action.

British Olympic Hopes

S. C. Wooderson is seen here defeating Jack Lovelock in the mile race at the Amateur Athletic Association championships at White City, London, recently. Wooderson finished in four minutes fifteen seconds, comparatively slow time considering Lovelock's former performances. Both men will be British hopes in the Olympic games at Berlin. Inset is D. O. Linlay, Royal Air Force hurdler, who will captain the British Olympic team of forty-two men.

OLD-TIMERS TO PLAY LACROSSE

To Take Field at Athletic Park Tomorrow in Game With Younger Team

Playing against a younger and faster squad, but having a wealth of experience garnered when lacrosse was one of the leading games in Victoria a decade ago, old-timers of the game will take the field tomorrow at the Athletic Park in what should be a keen exhibition.

The feature match will be preceded by a game between a team of Duncan youngsters and a squad of local boys. J. V. Johnson will referee. The local team will include Mann, Wood, Cummings, Pickford, N. Coster, Horne, Bousfield, D. Coster, J. Pickford, W. Williams, McConnell, Derry, Clark, Evans, Robinson and Cooper.

Following a keen workout yesterday evening, the old-timers are in fair shape for the event and will give the younger lads a stiff battle. S. Moel, S. Rickinson, R. Williams, W. Passmore, L. Stevens, J. Taylor, F. Scafe, C. Nicol, W. Plater, "Buz" Brown, S. Crosby, C. Bissell and C. Hardy will form the squad to meet the old-timers, whose members include W. Dismore, F. Jenkins, C. Fairall, E. Popham, Menzies, "Booster" McClure, Pottinger, John Johnson, F. Nobbs, F. Harding, T. Sargison, Stan Ross, Stewart Brynjolfson, E. W. McClure and Jimmy Blain.

SPORTSMEN'S BANQUET

The Victoria and District Fish and Game Association will stage another sportsmen's banquet late in August, George Claydars, chairman in charge of the event, announced today.

Sportsmen who wish to attend are asked to get in touch with Stan Shermitt, Roger Monteith or Claydars. The committee wishes to find out the number who will attend and obtain a suitable location.

COLWOOD GOLF

In the men's par competition at the Colwood Golf Club on Wednesday, R. B. Horton and B. Waude tied for first place, each with scores of 1 down Dr. F. M. Bryant was runner-up with a score of 2 down.

N.Y. Giants Put Cubs Down Again

Bill Terry's Club Continues Great Comeback in National League With 3 to 1 Victory Over Leaders; New York Yanks Beaten By Detroit in Tenth

The Chicago White Sox held on to fourth place yesterday despite the Detroit Tigers' bid with a 5 to 4 ten-inning decision over the league-leading New York Yankees.

Schoolboy Rowe, pitching his second game in four days against "Murderer" Row, tightened up after a shaky start, and lasted the whole way.

Cleveland's red hot Indians, with Hal Trosky smashing two of five homers, won their fifth straight battle, 11 to 8, from the Washington Senators, to clip the Yankees' pace setting edge to seven and a half games.

The Chicago Cubs' National League lead was shaved to a single game when the fast-moving New York Giants made it two straight over the champions, winning 3 to 1 behind Hubbell's seventh pitching.

The second place St. Louis Cardinals walloped the Brooklyn Dodgers 7 to 0, with rookie Jim Winford allowing but four hits for the tightest pitching performance by a Sox house gang moundsman in weeks.

With the Philadelphia Athletics losing to the White Sox, the St. Louis Browns pulled a game and a half out of the American League cellar with their second straight win over the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3.

The Pittsburgh Pirates outlasted the Boston Bees for eleven innings, and pulled out a 5 to 3 victory, while the Phillies managed to split in a double-header with the Cincinnati Reds, winning the nightcap 5 to 4, after Bill Hallahan shut them out 5 to 0 in the opener.

COAST LEAGUE

Oakland's second extra-inning victory over Seattle in as many games punched the three leading Coast League teams today within two and a half games of each other.

Victims last week of the hard-hitting Portland Beavers, Oakland chucked a return to hitting form by bludgeoning home three runs in the tenth inning yesterday evening to beat the league-leading Indians, 6 to 3. Portland drew to within a game and a half of Seattle by soundly thrashing the Sacramento Solons 5 to 1.

Manager Bill Sweeney's men remained on game ahead of the Acorns in the fourth place. Missions held their ground by winning from San Francisco's Seals 9 to 8. Los Angeles drapped a 10 to 3 loss on San Diego in the Padres' first night game.

ROYAL FLINT SETS RECORD

Covers Five Furlongs at Hastings Park in 1.01 to Win Handicap

Vancouver, July 31.—Royal Flint, three-year-old Prairie star, set a new track record for five furlongs yesterday in the speed handicap, feature event at Hastings Park. The gelding lay behind the leaders until the stretch when he opened up and pulled away to an easy victory.

Overlooked in the betting, Royal Flint returned $13.20, $7.70 and $5.70. Long shots were the order of the day.

G. Robertson's Moonface forced the pace for the entire six and one-half furlongs in the third race, and was never seriously threatened. She paid off at $46.15, $24.15 and $15.55.

Following closely on the heels of Moonface came Cleo's Pride, a 39 to 1 shot, to take the place position and return $33.60 and $12.25 to her backers.

Paisano, the second favorite, was forced to be content with the show. Front Man, coupled with Moonface in the daily double, paid $201.10, while the one-two bet, Bitter Bark and Too Much Talk, returned $14.30.

Results follow:

Obituary

MARY ELIZABETH DAVIS

At the Royal Jubilee Hospital this morning the death occurred of Mary Elizabeth Davis of 2660 Cedar Hill Road. Miss Davis was born in the Isle of Man and had been a resident of this city for twenty-five years. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

GEORGE RODERICK STUART

Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros. Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for George Roderick Stuart, who passed away Wednesday evening at the family residence, 431 Arnold Street, aged thirty-nine years. Mr. Stuart was born in Manitoba and resided here for ten years. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Misses Joyce and Shirley, at home; his parents, in Manitoba, and a sister in Vancouver. He went overseas with the 7th Battalion C.E.F. during the Great War and for the last six years had been cashier at the Crystal Garden. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

FREDERICK GEORGE DIPNALL

The funeral of Frederick George Dipnall took place yesterday afternoon. Rev. Canon Stocken officiating. There was a large attendance of friends and many beautiful tributes were received. The hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was sung, and the 93rd Psalm was read. Interment took place in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: Harold Ney, H. Martin, Ralph Harvey and C. H. Smith.

WILLIAM BARBOUR

Many friends were present at funeral services conducted yesterday afternoon for William Barbour of 3215 Oak Street, Saanich. The beautiful floral tributes received testified to the esteem in which the late Mr. Barbour was held. Rev. James Hood conducted an impressive service, and the remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Colwood Burial Park.

SYBIL HENLOWE

At Somenos, on Tuesday, July 28, Sybil Henlowe passed away, aged thirty-nine years. Miss Henlowe was born in Minnesota, Manitoba, coming to Vancouver Island with her family at an early age. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. S. Henlowe, Treborough Farm, Somenos, B.C., and three brothers, Cecil Henlowe, of Monrovia, Calif.; Lawrence, at home, and Ronald Henlowe, Duncan. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, Somenos.

MARKET NOTES

With the supply of hothouse tomatoes nearly exhausted, Okanagan field tomatoes are being imported. A good crop is reported this year. Last year rain spoiled many tons of tomatoes.

A carload of Valencia oranges arrived today from California. Grapefruit is selling well and prices have been marked up slightly during the week.

An increase of 20 cents a case in the price of apricots has been made as the season nears its end. Cantaloupe prices have also climbed as a result of the dump duty of 2 cents a pound being imposed. Retailers must now pay about $1.50 a case higher than last week.

Local plums are not yet on the market, but imported varieties, including Burbank, Climax, Tragedy and Santa Rosa plums are selling well. Grapes are retailing strongly.

The loganberry season is almost over. Everbearing strawberries from Vancouver, retailing at two boxes for 85 cents, are stated by wholesalers to be the best received for several years.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A quintuplet loganberry was sent up to the newsmen of The Times today. It was grown by Mrs. F. E. Muir, "Brenhill," Patricia Bay.

Relief and general accounts for June, totaling $6,268, were passed at a meeting of the Saanich Council yesterday evening.

Contracts totaling about $1,500 for equipment to be used in the Hudson's Bay Company sub-division, in Ward Seven, were awarded by the Saanich Council yesterday evening.

The Victoria and District Cornish Association will hold its annual basket picnic at Willows Beach tomorrow, at 2 o'clock. All members and Cornish friends are asked to attend. Tea, milk and sugar will be provided.

Stricken suddenly ill while awaiting a committee meeting at the City Hall today, Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital under the care of Dr. Hermann Robertson today. Hospital officials stated he was resting comfortably at 2 o'clock.

E. T. Simmons, 1171 Fort Street, is acting as secretary for the executive committee of the Vancouver Island eliminations contest of the 1937 Dominion Drama Festival. All communications regarding the contest may be addressed to him. Mr. Simmons is replacing Humphrey Toms, who has had to resign office for business reasons.

WANT STUDIO LEFT INTACT

Fair Exhibitors Asked to Concede Space to Movies

Exhibitors in the Industrial Building at the Willows exhibition grounds may be asked to switch their stalls this year so that Central Films Limited can continue its use of the building.

The proposal was advanced at a meeting of a Chamber of Commerce committee this morning with representatives of the B.C. Agricultural Association and Kenneth Bishop of Central Films.

If the agricultural association executive agrees to the plan, the chamber committee will approach the exhibitors with this suggestion, it was decided.

Should the exhibitors be agreeable to the change, the city may be asked to renovate the Automobile Building to house their displays.

Difficult in the way of such a course were explained to the chamber committee by W. H. Mearns, exhibition secretary.

Mr. Bishop, questioned on the matter, stated he would prefer not to dismantle his studio during the fair period, but understood fully, when he entered into the agreement, that he would be required to move during the fair.

The chamber group believed the merchants of the city would be prepared to make the change in the interests of the film industry from which, it was stated, they derived considerable trade.

Flower Show Has Over 500 Exhibits

Lieutenant-Governor Opens Annual Exhibition of Victoria Horticultural Society This Afternoon; Many Beautiful Displays

Standing on a dais overlooking a hall filled with a million flowers, Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber officially opened the thirteenth annual summer flower show of the Victoria Horticultural Society in the main building of Willows Park at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The Lieutenant-Governor was introduced on the platform by Duncan McTavish, president of the horticultural society. A. E. Powell, vice-president, and D. A. G. Price were among members of the executive on the platform.

With one of the largest number of non-competitive displays and over 500 entries this year's show promises to be one of the best in the history of the society.

A display of potted plants from the garden of W. F. Salisbury, which fills a diamond-shaped patch of 250 square feet near the entrance to the building was one of the features of the show. W. Hamilton, Mr. Salisbury's gardener, has banked masses of plants from his greenhouse at Gordon Head into one of the most artistic displays. Among the coleus, amaranthus, maidenhair ferns and fuchsias are lillium gloriosum and many other rarities.

The city has two excellent displays arranged by Charles Bennett features baskets of perennials in a cloudy foam of white gypsophila, and the other a pyramid of sweet peas, begonias and maidenhair fern from Beacon Hill Park.

Palmer's display were numerous this year. R. M. Palmer had a magnificent display of gladioli, including two of his latest dark purple red seedlings, Damaris and Jacobite. There were also baskets of Pearly and Debonair, two varieties perfected by his son, E. F. Palmer, and Lady Winslow and Cowichan, two more of his own creations.

Crossland Brothers of Duncan had a twenty-foot wall display of sweet peas and other annuals while the Mala Seed Farm, also of Duncan, had a similar display in another part of the auditorium.

Arrowsmith and Sons' gladioli were a centre of attraction and featured Blue Dusk, one of Mr. Arrowsmith's creations, and a most beautiful blue.

The Lily-glad, said to be the first cross between two families of plants, will be on show in their display tomorrow. Another display of gladioli was also put on by C. S. McTavish, old-time grower of Sidney.

Six new seedlings produced on the island were shown in the gladioli display of G. E. Wardle.

Vases full of sweet peas including such latest varieties as Rose du Barry and Patricia Unwin made up the table display of J. A. Hiberson. A pyramid of fuchsias and queer California succulents, tiny plants which look like bits of porcelain, were in the exhibit of J. Hallam.

Perennials, including a new double pink gypsophila, and heathers featured the display of Rockhome Gardens arranged by Horace Whitecock, while named varieties of roses were set out in a lovely exhibit put on by the Oak Bay Rose Society.

Dancing by pupils of the Florence Clough Dancing Academy and magic by "Kinky" Lockford will entertain visitors to the show this evening and tomorrow.

CONSUL FROM BRAZIL HERE

Arno Konder Seeking New Markets For Products

As Canada emerges from the depression, Brazil is endeavoring to increase trade with her, according to Arno Konder, Brazilian consul to Canada, visiting Victoria today in the course of a tour of the Dominion.

Mr. Konder, accompanied by his wife, has traveled from Montreal to confer with A. P. Watkins, vice-consul in Vancouver.

British Columbia salmon should find a good market in Brazil, Mr. Konder said. The same preferential duty applied to both Canadian and United States fish.

"Three-quarters of the sewing machines exported by Canada are taken by Brazil," Mr. Konder stated. There were also imported from the Dominion in large quantities, although automobiles could be obtained at lower costs from the United States.

He was particularly interested in enlarging the market for coffee here. Mr. Konder spoke in praise of the British trade agreement, there being an English bank in almost every town in Brazil.

The present trade ratio in favor of Canada was three and a half to one, he said.

DEATH CLAIMS CITY PIONEER

W. H. Kettle, Well Known in Marine Circles Here, Passes Away

Death yesterday evening removed another pioneer Victorian in the death at the family residence, 2411 Quadra Street, of William Henry Kettle, prominently known in marine circles here at the close of the last century. Mr. Kettle passed away after a short illness at the age of eighty-seven years.

As a young man, Mr. Kettle first came to this part of the country from Chatham, Kent, as chief engineer on a steamship, the Albion.

In 1884 he returned to Victoria with his family to settle and was for years foreman at the Albion Iron Works. He helped to build and install the engine in the locally-built Lorne.

Later he took the position of chief engineer on the Dunsmuir yacht. Thistle, and was aboard when that craft burned some years later.

In 1884, as chief engineer, he went north to the Yukon on the Victoria, built steam-whaler Canadian, returning after delivery to his home here.

For many years he retained his affiliation with coastal traffic and during the war worked in the Navy Yard at Esquimalt.

He had been in retirement for the last fifteen years.

He was a member of Columbia Lodge No. 1 A.F. and A.M. Funeral arrangements are being made through McCall Brothers' Funeral Parlor.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. C. McNeil of 501 St. Charles Street, Mrs. John B. Wainmaker, Pasadena, and Mrs. Anna M. Robinson, Claremont; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Loumer, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. George Peacock, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. James Huggan, Santa Monica; Alfred Combs, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. John B. A. Spalding, Alhambra; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spalding, Calif.; and Mrs. W. D. Curry, San Francisco.

Among the California visitors at the Strathcona Hotel today were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wainmaker, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Loumer, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. George Peacock, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. James Huggan, Santa Monica; Alfred Combs, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. John B. A. Spalding, Alhambra; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spalding, Calif.; and Mrs. W. D. Curry, San Francisco.

Other United States visitors noted on the register at the Strathcona Hotel today included: Mrs. M. J. Simmons, Seattle; Mrs. M. Wren and Dickie, Philadelphia; Misses Lulu Howard and Josephine Goodall, Toledo; Miss Elsie Tait, Seattle; Louis H. Baker and party, Kansas; Miss Esther M. Bell, Salem, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Doolittle, Boise, Idaho; Misses Anna M. Cornett and Mildred R. Snider, Seattle.

The increased tendency for women to travel alone is noticeable in the Douglas Hotel register. Among recent arrivals are Miss Evelyn Full, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. E. Deane, Los Angeles; Miss Aleda Knowlton, Pasadena, N.S.; Miss H. E. Sheppard and Miss A. Sheppard, Winnipeg; Mrs. J. A. Phillips and Mrs. Bertha Rush, Los Angeles. Other recent arrivals include C. Campbell McInnes, Toronto; C. Russ Houten, Colorado Hot Springs; J. Jones, Toronto.

"I like Victoria because it is a little like Switzerland with all its trees and greenery," said Miss Margaret Nelderberger, Zurich, Switzerland, visiting here on a tour of the United States. She is staying at the Strathcona Hotel.

Miss Niederberger is a stenographer in a Zurich office and made the trip alone. She has visited New York, Niagara Falls, Detroit, Salt Lake City, Yellowstone Park, and plans to return by way of the Grand Canyon.

She learned English last winter when she decided to take a three-month vacation. She can speak German, French, and Italian.

Francis Alward and Robert Curry of Liverpool and Newcastle, England, respectively, are making the Douglas Hotel their headquarters while visiting here. Other guests recently registered include E. J. Colton and family, Wainwright, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aldrich, Oregon City; Mr. and Mrs. B. Barnard, Moccasin, Cal.; Miss Marjorie Moore, El Centro, Cal.; Miss Bjorkhauser, El Centro, and Mrs. L. Behrman, Cornelius, Ore.

J. S. E. B. Kennedy of Kuyukot, who is on his way to England to raise money for the establishment of a new type of private school on Vancouver Island, will travel by way of Ottawa instead of flying to New York, he announced yesterday.

While in the east, Mr. Kennedy will call on Baron Tweedsmuir at Rideau Hall, and will interview Hon. P. J. A. Caudin, Minister of Public Works, in connection with the telegraph service on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

During his year's stay in England, he plans to attend the New Education Conference at Cheltenham.

To take the role of "Babe," the gangster's moll, in the present Central Films production, "Why Let 'Em Live?" Lucille Lund arrived yesterday from Buckley, Wash., where she has been staying with her family. Miss Lund makes her own home in Hollywood. She is accompanied by her mother, Mrs. O. Lund.

"I was amazed to find people swimming in Victoria. You have summer here too. This is a wonderful green country" was what Bob Wagner, Beverly Hills editor, told Seattle.

Lord Swinton said the candidates will receive flying training at convenient altitudes, centres, at time convenient to them.

Who's Who At Hotels

Mrs. D. W. Ogilvie, Montreal society leader, is expected to reach the Empress Hotel this afternoon from Vancouver.

Small Boy Loses Money in Purse

Dejected Over His Loss While on a Shopping Tour to Town, Little Leslie Curtis Appeals to Newspaper to Help Him Recover Mother's Property

"Little Leslie Curtis, who lives at 14 Boyd Street came into The Times office this morning and related a tale of real misfortune.

The little fellow bit his lip in his attempt to stem the tears—which welled up in his eyes and explained that he had lost a purse containing $2.10 which had been entrusted to him by his mother to make some purchases in the city.

He had lost the purse, he said, somewhere between The Times Building and Kregg's store.

Leslie, who is about eight years of age, was seized with the bright idea that if he told the newspapers about his loss they might help him get the purse and money back.

To the average person, perhaps, the sum of $2.10 does not mean much, but to Leslie it means a great deal.

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL DEFENCE

TENDERS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A THREE-MASTED WOODEN AUXILIARY SAILING SCHOONER.

Sealed tenders, enclosed in envelope marked "Tender for Schooner," and addressed to the Director of Contracts, Department of National Defence, Ottawa, Ontario, will be received until 10 o'clock noon (D.S.T.) of the 31st August, 1936.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein. These forms, together with the plans and specifications, may be obtained on application to the Commander-in-Chief, H.M.C. Dockyard, Halifax, N.S.; the Commander-in-Chief,
H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt, B.C., and the Director of Contracts, Department of National Defence, Ottawa.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of National Defence, for ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the tender.

The cheque of the successful tenderer will be forfeited should he decline to enter into a contract for the work, or should he fail, after accepting the contract to complete same in accordance with the plans and specifications.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

L. R. LAFLECHE,
Deputy Minister.

THREE ON TRIAL ESCAPE; CAPTURED

Associated Press
Chicago, July 31.—Three men on trial for murdering a policeman attacked their guards in an elevator in the criminal court building here yesterday, handcuffed the guards and fled, but were recaptured after a chase through the building.

The guards were stabbed with a sharp-edged file and forced to remove handcuffs from the prisoners.

The men on trial were Frank "Bones" Korczowski, twenty-seven;
Andrew Bogasi, twenty-eight, and Paul Jenkot. They faced a charge of killing Policeman Jerome McCauley during an automobile chase May 29.

The prisoners attacked the guards when the elevator was between floors, stabbing two of them and slugging a third.

After forcing the guards to remove the handcuffs, the prisoners put them on the officers and dashed through the building.

Policemen, summoned hastily, seized Korczowski as he attempted to vault a fence on the grounds at the south end of the building.

Bogasi was caught on the front steps and Jenkot on the roof.

Course Change Not Definite

Department of Education
May Retain Three-year
High School Option

The belief of the Victoria School Board that a four-year compulsory high school course would be instituted for the next school year by the Department of Education without provision for bright students to complete matriculation in three years, was erroneous, a delegation from the local board was informed yesterday by department heads.

Trustee F. E. George, in a statement today on the interview his group had with Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, and Major H. B. King, chairman of the curricular revision committee, quoted the minister to the effect that elimination of the three-year optional course was by no means a definite feature of the revision.

The actual set-up for next year would not be determined until the curricular revision committee had presented its report. Trustee George quoted the minister as saying. There was no reason to believe a four-year course would be compulsory, he added.
STUDENTS DROPPING OUT

Trustee George was accompanied by Trustee Kenneth Ferguson at the interview. The Victoria board members emphasized the fact that curriculum at present lacked a holding quality for students, many of whom left high school at the completion of the first or second years, and comparatively few of whom actually matriculated.

The trustees also drew to the attention of the department heads that matriculation certificates had become a fetish with employers.

In remarks yesterday on the interview, Dr. Weir said: "It was a very amicable and fruitful interview. We discussed educational matters in general, and were agreed upon the essentials to a very large extent; I might even say unanimously. There will be no change in our plans in connection with Victoria High School, but we will be glad to take into account the representations made by trustees."

LADYSMITH IN FINE POSITION

Council Congratulated By Auditor on State of Finances

Ladysmith, July 31.—In submitting the semi-annual report on the civic finances to the city council's regular meeting Wednesday evening, the auditor, E. W. Forward, appended a congratulatory note commenting upon Ladysmith's unique position in British Columbia municipalities.

Ladysmith, despite some years of economic adversity, had liquidated the final item of civic bonded indebtedness by the recent retirement of sewerage bonds, and was quite free of that form of obligation. Even when the city was in direct and all obligations had been promptly met where bonds and interest were concerned.

SEEK AID FOR RESCUE WORK

Volunteers, members of the Salvation Army will seek aid for the rescue work of the province, on the city streets tomorrow when a tag day will be held to collect funds for the continuance of this work.

Funds collected as a result of the sale will go directly into the rescue work. Sellers will be on all major street corners with tags tomorrow, or donations may be sent to Captain A.
Dale, Salvation Army, Box No. 781, Victoria.

Reg Wenman Six Short of Century as Eleven Defeats
Cowichan Handily

Falling just six runs short of the century, Reg Wenman led Victoria batsmen in a successful assault on Cowichan bowlers in a cricket match at the up-island grounds yesterday.

Victoria, playing under the name of Lethaby's eleven, put up 218 for six wickets, to which the Cowichan bats replied with a meagre 62.
Vaughan and Wenman took seven and three wickets for thirty-two and twenty-nine runs respectively.

Considine, with twenty-five, was high scorer for Cowichan, while Palin scored 40 for Victoria and Grant 39 not out.

OLD COUNTRY CRICKET

London, July 31.—Playing at Southampton, Hampshire disposed of Lancashire in two days in an English county cricket match yesterday by eight wickets. In another game concluded, the champion county, Yorkshire, won by an innings and 170 runs from Middlesex.

The scores:
Lancashire, 98 and 99 (Creese, eight for 37); Hampshire, 143 (Hapwood, five for 16), and 58 runs for two wickets.
Middlesex, 127 and 172 (Butterworth 59, Bowes five for 43); Yorkshire, 469 (Butcliffe, 202); at Scarborough.

Closing scores in other games:
Kent, 415 (Larwood, four for 81);
and 145 runs for one wicket; Nottinghamshire, 283 (Hardstaff 78, Hearne 78, not out); at Nottingham.
Northamptonshire, 199 and 105 for five; Sussex, 231 (Cook 80, Partidge, seven for 78); at Hove.
Gloucestershire, 107 for three (Bull, 51 not out); at Worcester.

The Big Six

Rip Radcliff, the Chicago White Sox heavy-hitting lead-off batter, emerged yesterday as sole survivor of Wednesday's three-way tie to take over undisputed possession of second place in the American League trio of baseball's Big Six in batting.

With Lou Gehrig, of the Yankees, continuing to set the pace, Radcliff collected two hits in five trips to the plate to hold second with an average of .378, while his teammate, Luke Appling, slipped to third, and Cleveland's Earl Averill dropped out of the first three.

In the National League,
Frank Demaree, of the Cubs, picked up five points on Ducky Medwick, of the Cardinals, by hitting safely in two of three chances to boost his mark to .355, only six points back of the leader.

The standings (three leading hitters in each league), follow:

Teachers Hear Trio Concert

Summer School Programme
Heard By Appreciative Audience

By G. J. D.

The trio concert given by Hans Zschiedrich, violin; Eugene Mahrer, cello, and Marguerite Devlin, piano, under the auspices of the Teachers' Summer School yesterday evening at the High School, drew a most appreciative audience.

Here is a group of earnest, efficient and temperamentally fitted artists in the very heyday of their musical careers, who, having already crossed the threshold of one of the finest departments in the realm of chamber music are seeking its further high heights in most meritorious manner. Their balance in ensemble, spirit, versatility, thought and feeling of the great beauty of the immediate present are well held.

What we would have liked the better was that there were occasions when the players could have gone
"all out" to reach the demands of the music, evident enough in their spirited, Schubert "Allegretto" in the romping finale of the Haydn trio, and in the Hartman joyful and gay
"Festans." Also the three performers can still strive for that delicate style of intimate quasi parlando playing so essential to any informed chamber music, as in the substituted two numbers, the graceful and charming Mozart "Romance," the favorite Haydn "Minuet," and certainly in the Andante of the Haydn trio in G major and the Czardas.

But the young party, as a whole, in their spirited, accomplished, and accomplished manner, have achieved considerable results, especially in the "Romance," the "Minuet," the Swedish harmonized Svanek Polka No. 1, in Stringfield's "In a Log Cabin" from his "Mountain Sketches," and in Carl Youth's scintillating "Waterfall," which proved one of the evening's favorites, and in the pyrotechnic close of the programme, the Nicholas Kempfer
"Czardas" arranged by Marguerite Devlin, at the conclusion of which the performers were loudly applauded.

Tracy and Miss Sidney portray a pair of young lovers, planning to marry. They are separated by Tracy's arrest as a kidnap suspect.
The small town in which he is held in prison for questioning is quickly stirred to action by ugly rumors.

Led by a vicious type of troublemaker played by Bruce Cabot, a mob storms the prison to "get" the suspect.

PIERROTS SING ON SHOW BOAT

The Royal English Show Boat
Pierrots will present their fifth consecutive programme tonight on the Show Boat, under the direction of Miss Gladys Mavius, of the London Hippodrome.

Miss Mavius, who has captivated Show Boat audiences with her quaint comedy and experienced presentation methods, will sing tonight "Ten Thousand Hoorays," "Rum Tidely
On Trum Ray," "I Like Bananas" and

Some Whys For Married Couples To Ponder

Tells Why Few Wives Understand Husbands

THE alibi of the philandering husband is always that his wife doesn't understand him. Of course, she doesn't. No woman ever understands any man, and of all races, tribes, cults and sects of man none have so many curious peculiarities as husbands. Each is a cross-word puzzle that his wife spends her time from the altar to the grave trying to work out, and among the things that keep her guessing are these:

Why a man is so different before and after marriage that his wife wouldn't know him for the same individual if he didn't have his marriage license tag around his neck.

Why the man who before marriage spent hours telling her how beautiful and wonderful she was and how different from all other women, and who complimented her upon the way her hair was fixed and her taste in dress, never mentions the state of his affections after marriage, or notices what she has on and whether she looks like the wrath of God or a bathing beauty.

Why the man her father had to practically throw out of the house before marriage, in order to get rid of him she has to lock in if she wants to spend an evening with him after marriage.

Why a man can remember all of his wife's tastes and her most casually expressed desires, but a husband never knows what his wife likes or wants, and is as deaf as an adder to all of her hints.

Why a man marries for a home and then spends as little time in it as possible. Why a man marries a girl for one thing and then expects her to be something totally different. Why he picks out a Dumb Dora for a wife and is bored by her because she isn't brilliant. Why he marries a living fashion-plate and complains about her dress bills. Why he selects a career woman for a wife and feels that he has been stung because she isn't a crackjack cook.

Why husbands in general do not feel called upon to treat their wives as if they were ladies and why they say things to their wives that they would not dream of saying to their stenographers or clerks or any woman who had an able-bodied brother.

Why husbands who are witty and entertaining and set other people's dinner tables in a roar so often never open their mouths at their own tables except to put food in them or to complain about the soup having too much salt in it, or the roast being overdone.

Why the man who before marriage could keep up with his own belongings and take care of himself becomes as helpless as a baby as soon as he is married, and can never afterward find a clean shirt or locate a handkerchief by himself.

Why men who have been accustomed to paying staggering restaurant checks are under the delusion that a woman can run a home on practically nothing and conjure good meals and home comforts out of the air.

Why a man will trust his wife with his name and his honor, but not his pocketbook. Why men think that their wives have no desire for financial independence and actually enjoy begging them for every cent and being asked: "What did you do with that quarter I gave you week before last?"

Why any husband has the nerve to speak of "supporting" his wife when she works fourteen hours a day to make a comfortable home for him and his children and to save his money. Why husbands think that just being married to them is all the diversion that any woman could want.

Why husbands think that cooking and washing and baby-tending is a pastime of which women never tire, although being shut up in a house for a single day gives them the heebie-jeebies, and taking care of the baby on a Sunday afternoon gives them nervous prostration.

Why husbands believe that because their wives loved them when they married them that they are bound to go on loving them to the end, so there is no necessity of trying to retain a wife's affections.

Why husbands expect their wives to forgive them for philandering for which they would drag their wives into the divorce court.

And, most of all, wives wonder why when their husbands know that a few tender words and a kiss that wasn't just out of cold storage would make them happy and make marriage worth while, they so seldom get them.

Uncle Wiggily and the Puzzle

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Jiggie Flatpaw said one morning to Uncle Wiggily: "I want Uncle Wiggily, if you would go for a walk with me? I mean a long walk. Maybe over the second mountain."

"Why, yes, I'd be glad to," Uncle Wiggily replied, turning around three times very fast. "And do you think we'll find an adventure?"

"I can't promise that," Mr. Longears laughed. "But at any rate, we'll look for one. Now you get ready, and as soon as Nurse Jane takes the lunch we'll start. Would you like anything special?"

"Well, of course honey is my favorite food, but I don't imagine Nurse Jane has any of that. So we'll just take what she has, and be glad to get it. Uh, Uncle Wiggily," said Jiggie.

"That's the way to talk," the bunny chuckled. "I'll be with you in a few minutes, Jiggie."

OFF THEY GO

So in a little while Jiggie and Uncle Wiggily set off. Nurse Jane had made them a nice lunch, which Uncle Wiggily carried, because Jiggie said, "I'd like to get so hungry I'd want to eat it right away." They took their path through the woods and on toward the second mountain.

"I hope it doesn't rain," Jiggie said, after a time. "And I hope we'll have an adventure. Uncle Wiggily, ahead—ain't that Johnnie Bushytail? He's sitting on the ground. I wonder what he can be doing? He seems very happy."

"It was quite true," the squirrel boy was busy. He didn't see Jiggie and Uncle Wiggily until they were right next to him. Then he jumped up, surprised.

"Goodness! Johnnie, I didn't know you were there, Uncle Wiggily. Hello, Jiggie! See what I've got!"

They both looked. There, on the ground, was a puzzle. It was a puzzle, it was the sort that had great many cut-out pieces and when they're all together they make a picture.

"How are you getting on?" Uncle Wiggily asked. "Is the puzzle almost finished? What is it a picture of?"

THAT'S THE PUZZLE

"That's the puzzle," Johnnie sighed. "I've been trying to put this together for two hours. Would you like to help me?"

Of course they said they would. The extra pieces were all in a pile, and Jiggie began sorting them out. Then Uncle Wiggily put some of them in place. It was a large puzzle, almost as large as Jiggie, in fact. That's the reason Johnnie had it out of doors, instead of in the house.

"I think we're getting it!" Uncle Wiggily cried after a time. "It's taking shape! Now this piece goes right in here—"

"Oh, it does, oh, it does," Jiggie said, and there was the bad old Fox! He had sneaked up behind them, and they were so interested in the puzzle they didn't hear him. "I don't know what you are doing, but I know what I'm going to do—able Uncle Wiggily's ears."

"Please, let us finish this puzzle first," Uncle Wiggily begged. "See, it's almost done. Will you, Fox?"

MR. FOX TRIES IT

"Puzzle? Hum! I used to be good at that. Let me look at it—but don't think I'll forget about your puzzle, Uncle Wiggily. As soon as I solve the puzzle I'll begin nibbling. Why, you've got that piece in wrong—it should be over here! It's a picture of an elephant, isn't it? And that's part of his trunk. Oh, I'm good at puzzles, all right!"

Uncle Wiggily winked at Jiggie and Johnnie. They let the Fox pull some of the pieces out. "And then, do you know, he got so interested that he really did forget all about his ear-nibbling. He sat there trying to find a part of the elephant's foot. And he couldn't find it—because Uncle Wiggily hid it."

The Fox was so mad at not finding the

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

ASTROLOGERS read this as an uncertain day, mingling good and adverse planetary influences. Benefic aspects rule the morning hours.

Business men of many classes will profit at this date, for new channels of trade are discerned. Contractors and builders in small cities will have great success. Attorneys appear to be subject to stimulating and encouraging aspects that promise distinction as well as financial benefits. Judges of high rank are to be chosen within a few weeks among the people.

The stars continue to encourage foreign travel. This is a lucky day for starting ocean voyages. There are to be more American tourists than usual through the early part of the month.

Land owners are under a promising direction of the stars. Homes in small towns and minor cities will be in great demand.

Jupiter rising in the sign of Sagittarius at the time of the August lunation presages commercial development and co-operation between the United States and Great Britain.

Sudden cold spells and much rain will discourage tourists in Europe. Diseases of the throat and lungs may be prevalent abroad. Unscheduled events will add to the thrills of travelers.

Roumania continues under a planetary government that encourages unrest and revolution. Rise of power among the people is indicated.

Persons whose birthdate is 1 is have the augury of a year of nerve-racking experiences that may cause violent quarrels. Friends will prove of great value in safeguarding financial holdings.

Children born on this day probably will be hasty in judgment, loyal and determined. Subjects of this sign usually dislike publicity.

Richard Henry Dana, jurist and author, was born on this day, 1815. Other who have celebrated it as a birthday include Robert Todd Lincoln, lawyer and son of the President, 1843; William Clark, explorer, 1779, and George Ticknor, writer, 1791.

New Post Soon For Lord Willingdon

London, July 31.—The Marquess of Willingdon probably will be offered, and will accept, the presidency of the British Broadcasting Corporation, according to The London Daily Mail.

The B.B.C.'s new five-year charter will come into operation January 1, 1937. Ronald Collett Norman, brother of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, is president of the B.B.C. at present.

Lord Willingdon was raised to the rank of Marquess after his return this year from a five-year term as Viceroy of India. Prior to his term in India he was Governor-General of Canada.
